Toft Requests Dump Be On Priority List

by KAREN WILTBERGER

Antioch Mayor Raymond Toft, on behalf of Antioch residents, has requested that the Antioch HOD landfill site be added to the Superfund list of the nation's worst toxic-waste dumps.

In response to a Federal Register notice seeking public comment, Toft told the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency that the site presents an imminent and substantial danger to the public health and welfare.

Toft, backed by the Antioch Village Board, has also asked that additional monitoring wells be placed at the site as soon as possible to alleviate legitimate public concern of (Continued on Page 13A)

Commission Lays Out Open Mall Development

A "nuts and bolts" discussion on how to proceed the development of an open mall behind the eastside businesses on Main St. was the focus of a redevelopment meeting on Nov. 19.

The first step toward the goal of the destined Antioch Open Mall was achieved Oct. 31 with the tearing down of Thompson's Bar and Grill, 933 Main St., to become a pedestrian walkway.

Todd Mapletorpe, supt. of public works, who was a guest speaker at the meeting, said the village may clear trees and brush from the back area this winter to get it ready for spring development.

The village owns about an acre of land behind the eastside that can provide room for 50 parking spaces, Mapletorpe said. But the commission is looking to lease additional land behind eastside business, which would provide and another 30 to 50 spaces, he said.

Mike Warren, chairman of the redevelopment commission, said that this spring dirt will be removed and a gravel mix will be added to the area destined to be a paved parking lot as well as an area for community events.

The placement of overhead lights on existing telephone polls and the replacement of the sporadically placed polls are also on the spring agenda, Warren said.

Another goal is to widen Park St., east of Main St. to accommodate three lanes of traffic, Warren said. He said the commission is seeking permission from the Illinois Dept. of Transportation, which oversees development that impacts the traffic flow of a state highway.

The commission is also discussing how to handle the development of the pedestrian walkway. It had been the commission's desire to purchase E.J.'s Camera, adjacent to the 933 Main St. property, to widen the walkway, Warren said, but at this time "there is nothing definite ahead to make me believe we can buy it."

Though nothing is certain, there is a possibility that it will be designed like the walk area on the northwest part of downtown Main St., he said.

The redevelopment activities have been funded by the village, but in June the commission will receive its own money through Tax Incremental Funding.

Police Prescribe Pound Of Prevention

by the LAKELAND NEWS STAFF

The good news is that the sheriff's departments of both Lake and Kenosha counties report that assaults in general, including those on women, have been on the down swing in the last couple of years.

The bad news is that there is an increasing number of the "weaker sex" living, working and socializing alone.

Len Duco of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. attributes the decrease to the new Illinois law allowing the police to press assault charges when the women refuse to, thus discouraging some attacks.

Lt. Allan Kehl of the Kenosha County Sheriff's office, who gives talks to women's groups on precautionary measures they should take, claims that the increasing amount of education information being disseminated by law enforcement agencies deserves some of the credit.

With murders and reported assaults down by over 40 percent in the unincorporated areas of Lake County, the sheriff's department still thinks it's necessary for women to know how to protect themselves in solo situations, so Sheriff Robert Babcox and his staff are in the process of putting together a seminar pertaining to such measures.

Women who are interested in having Lt. Kehl of Kenosha speak on the subject can reach him at the sheriff's department.

In testimony to a society which seems to be getting increasingly sicker sexually, Kehl produced statistics that show that nationally, 72 percent of females that are sexually assaulted are under 18 years of age, 50 percent under 14. Twenty seven percent of the attackers are 12 years older than the victim, with 24 percent of these criminals falling into the juvenile court system.

Reported sexual assaults in Kenosha (city and county) showed a 54 percent decrease from 1983 to 1984. Many adult women never report being raped because of fear of the hassle they may face besides the publicity. Many parents refuse to have assaulted children go through any kind of questioning, etc.

In 1980, Tory Rachel of Wonder Lake, then 21-years-old, was charged with raping a 13-year-old Lake Villa girl while she was alone at home. He received barely more than a slap on the wrist. Later he was charged and sentenced for taking indecent liberties with two Lake County minors. He was serving a sentence for these crimes, when he was extradited to Kenosha County to face charges of raping a Salem woman while she was jogging alone on a Sunday evening. Although she was in her twenties she could have been mistaken for a teenager in her jogging clothes.

He was finally convicted in a Kenosha County court, receiving a proper jail sentence because of the tenacity of the Salem woman and Kenosha County Dist. Atty. Robert Zapf. Only 20 percent of these criminals are ever convicted.

Although more women are living alone, some because of the divorce rate, the National Census Bureau reports that economics have caused a five percent increase in women between the ages of 20 and 24 who live at home with their parents, than did in the 1970s.

Mundelein Police Chief Arthur Glitz warns that liquor is involved in many attacks on women. He zeroes in on one rape in his territory where a woman was drinking in a tavern, left with her male drinking partner and was raped.

Women Alone: Joys — Perils

Although he claims that women being attacked "isn't a serious problem in Mundelein," he adds that women should see that they are at least escorted to their cars when out alone late at night.

Round Lake Police Chief Ed Noe says that "women who live alone should be careful in advertising that fact, either by word of mouth, in the phone book or on their mail box. Using a first initial in the phone book instead of an obvious female name and putting a fictitious name on the mail box, so it looks like more than one person lives there," were his suggestions.

Gurnee Police Chief Lawrence Dluhos says that Gurnee is "a family oriented town." He added that most of the apartments in the area are lived in by families or men and women living together. But for the woman that travels alone he advises making sure that car windows are up and the doors locked.

On the idea of women living alone having a gun or guard dog for protection, he warns against them saying, "leave that to the professionals because they can bring about more harm than protection."

Despite the fact that figures from the U. S. Affairs Public Service Committee show that the suicide attempts made by women who have been sexually attacked are three times greater than among women who have not, Noe of Round Lake Beach, said that women should not resist if they are attacked.

"They may have trauma over the situation afterwards, but they have a greater chance of not being beaten or killed," he said.

All law enforcement agencies warn women against leaving the safety of their cars in dark or unlit areas. Dluhos suggests traveling in car pools.

Lt. Tom Fisher of the Antioch Police Dept. claims to have little problem with actual physical attacks, though there has been a problem at times with "flashers."

He advises women who spend a lot of time alone to let a good friend or family member know their schedules, including their comings and goings and what time they are expected to be where. Keeping in constant touch with these people is also recommended.

This is so a deviation from that schedule could set off an alarm more quickly, thus bring aid if needed and-or catching an attacker more easily.

Grayslake Police Chief Ed Wunderle says that outlying the recent murder, there has been little trouble with women being hurt since the last murder, 30 years ago, which was family involved. He also called for security locks on outside doors, saying that an apartment building with a lobby that has glass doors is somewhat safer because people can be seen entering the inner halls.

Since fewer elderly people are living with their children, the Census Bureau also reports that more and more female senior citizens are living with male seniors, some for economic reasons and others because of their fear of living alone. They feel that "a man in the house, even if he is elderly, affords more protection than a woman living alone."

Nationally there has been a rise in seniors being mugged for their Social Security or welfare checks on public streets. There has also been an increase in home invasions of seniors (especially in urban areas) with robbery and sexual attacks, even murder the result.

Starting Out...Starting Over... Or Starting A New Job...?

There are a lot of reasons why people decide to rent instead of buy. For one thing, a good credit record isn't that easy to establish these days. If you're just starting out, chances are you've never needed credit before now - and you probably don't have a lot of money saved up, either. If you're "starting over"...well, that's difficult enough in itself, without the added weight of credit hassles and long-term commitments. And if you just started a new job - even though you may be making more money - you may still have trouble getting credit, because most credit agencies put a great deal of importance on how long you've been at your job. That's why, with or without a credit record, we've made it so easy for you to RENT the things you want from RENT-A-CENTER - and still have the option to own! So don't let the high cost of buying get you down: Step up to RENT-A-CENTER today - and have the things you want delivered to your home tonight!

Professional Care Protects Investment

"Tens of thousands of dollars are spent locally every year replacing expensive carpets and furniture which should have given many more years of service," comments Scott Chirempes, of Duraclean Fabric Specialists, Fox Lake.

"Proper professional care of home furnishings is the best protection for one of the homeowner's largest investments," adds Chirempes, local affiliate of Duraclean International, worldwide organization of the in-the-home carpet and furniture cleaning specialists.

According to Chirempes, major cause of deterioration of carpets and furniture is the unavoidable accumulation of airborne atmospheric soil.

"This greasy, clinging soil, generated by cooking, chimneys, exhausts, etc., is deposited on everything in the house. You can wipe it off tables, walls, and windows, but it clings tightly to carpet pile and furniture fabrics. This acidic soil not only dulls colors and makes furnishings look dingy, but it also has a deteriorating effect on the material," said Chirempes.

"Because of its light, clinging characteristic, this soil accumulates on the tips of the fiber or fabric. 'Steaming' or shampooing, with either do-it-yourself equipment or professionals' heavy duty machines, merely drives this soil deeper into the pile or fabric. The surface may look clean, but the embedded soil and detergent soon 'work' back up to the surface. That's why furnishings seem to re-soil so rapidly after some types of cleaning," he said.

Duraclean approaches the soil removal problem in a different way. Duraclean Fabric Specialists employ a unique foam-absorption process which involves no

Scott Chirempes uses special foam generation and application equipment to clean carpet in his customers' home or place of business, which leaves furnishings dry and ready for use in a few hours. Duraclean's foam absorption process lifts soil out of furnishings thoroughly and safely.

soaking or excessive mechanical scrubbing. For carpets, special patented equipment generates and applies an absorbent foam, works it into the pile to release and contain the soil, then extracts the soil-laden foam thoroughly, without over-wetting. For upholstered furniture, Oriental rugs, tapestries, and other delicate fabrics, a drier, aerated foam lifts out the soil with maximum safety.

Thanksgiving's End Means The Shopping Season Begins

by ARDEEN HARRIS
(312) 395-2761

This is the week you have been waiting for. Thanksgiving will be over and you will be starting your Christmas shopping. What better place to start than at the Grass Lake PTO Christmas Bazaar! Start the morning off with a delicious breakfast with Santa from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Enjoy the delicious pancakes and have a cup of coffee with your neighbors. Take your time shopping around the lovely tables of the Christmas Bazaar and be sure your children see and talk to Santa to let him know what they want for Christmas. The Christmas Bazaar will run from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. There will be handmade craft items, baked goods and lovely give-away items. The pancake breakfast donations will be $2.50 for adults, $2 for seniors, children 5-10 will be $1.50 and preschool children are free! Mark your calendar for Dec. 1. The location is the Grass Lake School, one and one-half miles west of Rte. 59 on Grass Lake Rd. in Antioch.

Grass Lake News

Grass Lake School will have an early dismissal on Nov. 27 to start the Thanksgiving weekend. The children will be getting out of school at 1:50, 1:55 and 2:20 p.m. Be sure to keep this date in mind, so your children won't be waiting for you out in the cold.

Can you believe the first snowfall of the year! I know it was coming, but it's hard to get the body adjusted to the cold weather. Is skiing and snowmobiling far behind?

For those of you who were unable to attend the Emmons PTO meeting on Nov. 18 you really missed an interesting program. Mrs. Elizabeth Houghton was the speaker and she is with the Deerfield Citizens for Drug Awareness program. The program wasn't your typical. "Here's what drug's look like," but it went into the responsibilities of parents and their children. The statistics show that show how children and teenagers use drugs and how their young bodies become addicted to them was unbelievable.

Mrs. Houghton's program was, however, believable because she has been through the problem. She and her family had no where to turn because at that time, no one wanted to admit that there were problems like this with their children. Alcohol is one of the biggest drug problems. Some parents feel that a little beer is no problem.

The Emmons PTO had a sign-up, or rather a commitment sheet. At first, I wasn't going to sign it because I was not from their area. However, the idea behind the program was one in which our children will all be attending Antioch High School in a few years, and let's get the communication system going now before we do run into problems and it's too late.

If you agree with the Instant Parent Peer Group, I urge you to contact Kathy Braun, Karen Wolf, Barb Teegen or Laurel Dahl through Emmons school and sign up for the Parent Peer Group.

"Yes! We want to join others in our community in a mutual effort to benefit our children and ourselves as their parents. Because we are concerned about the increasing acceptance of adolescent and pre-teen use of drugs—primarily alcohol—as a normal part of growing up, and because we are concerned that a lack of appropriate limits for our young is detrimental to their healthy development, and because we believe that our children need and benefit from a unified statement of positive standards and values.

"We agree to: 1) encourage wholesome chaperoned activities for our children by not allowing alcohol or any other drug to be consumed by minors who are socializing in our homes; 2) communicate with the appropriate adults to insure that events outside our homes will be properly chaperoned and will not include the use of alcohol or other drugs by minors; 3) We support and use the following weekend curfews for our children as a general guideline knowing that special occasions require special consideration:

"12th grade—11:30 p.m., 11th grade—11:30 p.m., 10th grade—11 p.m., 9th grade 11 p.m., 8th grade—10:30 p.m., and 7th grade—10 p.m.

"We indicate our support of the above by checking the boxes beside the following statements that reflect our opinions and intentions:

1) We agree to oppose the use of alcohol and other drugs by teens and children; 2) We agree with the above guidelines and plan to use them as parenting tools; 3) We would like our names placed on a roster of an Instant Parent Peer Group so we can be notified to future programs knowing that the roster will be available to all who choose to join the group."

Remember, the best thing to spend on your children is time—your time!

Happy Birthday to Paul Kitto who will be celebrating his day on Nov. 30. Marina Stafford will celebrate on Dec. 1. Marina is in the seventh grade at Grass Lake School. Jenni Vandrush will celebrate her day on Dec. 4. She is also in the seventh grade at Grass Lake School.

There are only three more weeks of girls' iceless hockey league folks. The Harris family has been involved in the program for 10 years, and if you hear a big scream on Dec. 20, you will know that the last game has been played for the season and for the Harris family. For those of you who have girls, I can only say that it is a great program.

Rumor has it that this will be Neil Larson's last year with the program. He's done a super job through the years, but you know as your children get older and out of things, so do the hard workers.

Here are the girl's standings for the week of Nov. 15; first and second graders; Rangers (5W-1L), Blues (4W-2L), Kings (4W-2L), Red Wings (4W-2L), Canadiens (2W-3L-1T), Maple Leafs (2W-3L-1T), Black Hawks (1W-5L), Flyers (1W-5L). Federal Rap Cuts Haley's Parole

At his sentencing, after expounding on his guilt, apologizing and claiming to have seen the error of his ways, Haley named people already charged as being involved with his drug smuggling ring: James Amorosa, Peter Loras, Frank Marotta, William Bianco, Jeffery Berry, Michael Johnson and Robert Hoffman.

Some got probation, others short prison sentences, some are in prison on the work release program, one is still awaiting trial and two are awaiting sentencing. To date, Berry has received the longest sentence (five years) next to that imposed on Haley.

Haley also mentioned "the mayor of Fox Lake" but not by name.

Haley's brother Michael, former Antioch mayor, presently working for the Illinois Secretary of State's office, has never been accused of involvement with his brothers' drug operations. But his father-in-law, Charles Smith, 65, was arrested at his home in Winters, Wis. a month ago and charged by the Eau Claire County Sheriff's Dept. with raising and selling marijuana on two farms in the area that he owned.

Lt. David Schultz of the sheriff's department estimated the value of the cannabis at $1-and-one-half million. Schultz said that the maximum sentence faced by Smith is 15 years on each of the two counts he was charged with.

Schultz also reported that to date no drug connection between Smith and anyone in Lake County had been found.

A drug investigation that hit the newspapers in 1980, involved drug busts in Puerto Rico, Dade and West Palm Beach counties, Fla., and O'Hare Field in Cook County, all connected to a Lake County man, came to a climax in Chicago in the U. S.

District Court on Nov. 20.

After previously pleading guilty to a charge of the continuing criminal practice of operating a drug ring in northern Illinois, William Haley, 44, Antioch, was sentenced to 10 years and one month by U. S. Dist. Court Judge James F. Holderman.

Haley, reportedly has been held in the Metropolitan Correctional Center in Chicago since he plea-bargained with federal authorities two months ago. The bargaining resulted in the dropping of 10 other drug related charges in consideration of Haley agreeing to plead guilty to "the heaviest federal charge there is," said Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Ira Raphaelson before the sentencing.

Judge Holderman's sentence is set to run concurrently with the 10-year sentence Haley is already serving in Florida after being found guilty of masterminding the flight of an airplane loaded with marijuana into a West Palm Beach airport.

Though it might be thought that Haley in essence received no additional prison time after pleading guilty to a serious continuing federal offense and will still just serve time for the one drug run into Florida, Asst. U. S. Atty. Dan Gillogly explained that, under the state prison term Haley could have been out on parole before the seven years mandated by the federal offense.

Haley has already served approximately 20 months of the first 10-year sentence. Gillogly said that he could get some federal time off for good behavior, guestimating a total prison term of from seven to eight years. So Haley in reality could be released in just over five years from either a federal or state prison, yet to be determined.

Teacher Place To Show Pupils' Work

The public is invited to view several innovative efforts from area students which will be on display through January 1986 at Teacher Place and Parent Resources.

The projects can serve as ideas for other teachers, scout leaders, activity directors, artists, and drama instructors.

Invented string instruments made by Marge Jorgensen's first through fifth grade students can be plucked by visitors and music invented. Jorgensen, a Racine resident, teaches at Cooper School in Burlington.

"Creatures" from Sue Senzig's first grade at Caddy Vista School in Racine Unified Dist. combine a successful art lesson with a helpful math tool.

Learning to make and use legible "greater than" and "less than" signs is often difficult for children but with the aid of this project, it becomes easier. Details of how to implement the project are listed at the center.

All of the projects can be seen during drop-in hours at Teacher Place and Parent Resources between 1 and 7 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesdays or Saturdays between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. The small $1 admission to the center entitles visitors to many other opportunities as well. The location is 380 N. Pine, Burlington.

W.C. Petty 2nd Graders Talk About Thanksgiving

Karen Jacobsen

"Christopher Jones was the captain of the Mayflower. There were over 103 people and all of them were going to America. And when they got there some Indians found the Pilgrims. Squanto was one of their names."

Kyle Mattheis

"Christopher Jones was the captain of the Mayflower and when the Mayflower set sail the man saw land far away. They sailed to the land of America and then they saw an Indian and the Indian was very friendly. After they met the Indian, they started to make houses and that was their new home and they celebrated and they discovered Thanksgiving."

John Groth

"On the first Thanksgiving Day the Indians brought some food to the pilgrims. They gave thanks to God for their food and for their harvest. They ate turkey, deer, and corn, and pumpkin pie, and cranberries. The feast lasted for three days and the children played games and everybody sang songs. They cooked the food over wood fires outside."

Erika Schneider

"Christopher Jones was the captain of the Mayflower. There were more than 102 people. They were all going to America. And when they got there they met some Indians. And they also met an Indian name Squanto. And he taught them how to grind corn and to make flour. Squanto also showed the pilgrims how to shoot a bow and arrow. He showed them where to catch lobster. And they celebrated and had a big Thanksgiving Feast, the pilgrims and Squanto the Indian."

Nicole Bonds

"It is a time for family, a time for friends. It is a time for thanks, just as the pilgrims gave on the first Thanksgiving over 300 years ago. Before the pilgrims came to America, they lived in England. But they were not very happy there. The pilgrims wanted their religious freedom. King James had ordered everyone to worship in the Church of England. Those who did not obey him were punished."

Adam Lavigne

"Thanksgiving is a time for celebrating. That is when man discovered America. And when they got there they found Indians. The Mayflower was 900 feet long. Then they found pilgrims. Samoset was the chief of Indians. Squanto talked English. That was the only Indian that talked English."

Capt. Parthun Gives Tips To Avoid Fires

Fire Prevention Bureau Capt. Wayne Parthun, of the Antioch Fire Department, announces tips to prevent fires caused by kerosene heaters, supplemental heating devices which account for loss of lives and homes every year.

Parthun said many fires might have been prevented if owners had taken the time to learn how to properly maintain their kerosene heaters.

The following tips can help prevent fires:

—Always choose a heater that has been approved by a recognized testing laboratory, such as Underwriters, and check with your local building codes to make sure the use of a kerosene heater is permitted in your type of dwelling. Avoid buying second-hand units.

—Read and follow the manufacturer's operating instructions. Know the proper way to care for and clean your heater.

—Place your heater on a solid, level surface at least three feet from anything that could burn. Make sure your heater has proper ventilation by slightly opening a door or window.

—Never move or service a heater that is still operating or hot.

—Always turn off your heater when leaving the house or before going to sleep at night, and for added safety, install a smoke detector.

—Only use K-1 kerosene in your heater, never use gasoline.

—Store kerosene in the proper and clearly marked containers and in a cool, well-ventilated place away from a living area. Also make sure it is out of the reach of children.

—To avoid overflowing the tank, always leave some air space when refilling. Kerosene that is stored outdoors will expand when brought indoors.

—Remember that kerosene heaters or similar type heaters are not allowed to be used in any type of commercial or public buildings.

Graham Sounding Like Candidate

Still unannounced but expected to be a candidate for the Lake County Board, Supervisor F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville Twp. lashed out at what he termed the "void of leadership in the public interest" in Dist. 5 which includes Warren, Libertyville and Vernon townships.

Graham, continuing to sound the alarm over disappearing open space for development purposes, said he is giving "lots of thought" to running for a board seat.

The outspoken supervisor, however, said he is not yet ready to make a formal announcement.

Supervisor Robert "Bob" Depke of Warren Twp., whose seat is up for reelection next year, also remained noncommittal about his plans although political observers consider him an odds-on favorite to run again.

Monday, Dec. 9, is the first official day for filing nominating forms.

Also in the "considering" stage is Atty. Dennis Brebner, a resident of Gurnee who maintains a law office in Waukegan.

Brebner was an unsuccessful candidate for the County Board in 1984. He said he would like to see who else is running before making a final decision.

Graham said if he runs it will be as an independent Republican. "I don't think the regular party will have me," he joked.

Only announced candidate from the mid-county district that includes such population centers as Lincolnshire, Vernon Hills, Wildwood and Mundelein, is Eugene Martin, who was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Priscilla Richardson of Gurnee.

Martin, a resident of Libertyville, has been actively campaigning for several months. He was honored at a retirement party last week at Renwood Country Club after stepping down as vice chairman of the Grayslake National Bank.

In commenting on the political climate in Dist. 5, Graham said the area has too many public officials who are "growth happy."

"I think the public is beginning to realize that unbridled growth is taking us down the path of ruination," He said Dist. 5 contains two major open space areas, the Cuneo Farm south of Libertyville and the Pritzker property off Belvidere Rd. west of the Illinois Tollway, that would be folly to develop.

Graham noted that he expects the group of voters who brought a new look to the Warren Twp. High School board to play an important role in the election of County Board representatives.

They were successful, Graham remarked, "because the people were frustrated by the high school board" on the plans for rebuilding the fire-ravaged high school building in Gurnee.

Thankful Holiday Thought

The holiday season hereabouts is starting on a high note with unemployment throughout the Lakeland area at a low ebb, the local economy cruising along at a steady if not spectacular level and relative peace in the world.

President Reagan's return from his first superpower summit with confidence and good humor sets a happy tone for a memorable holiday season for America. The president's apparent productive meeting with Soviet leader Gorbachev should be heartening to everyone.

Yes, there is relative peace in the world. It is comforting to note that when the leaders of the two most powerful nations in the world are talking, they aren't apt to be getting ready to go to war. The fact that Reagan and Gorbachev did talk and have planned two more summit meetings in 1986 and 1987 probably is more significant than the minimal progress made in Geneva toward nuclear arms control.

Politicians on both sides will be nitpicking to death the point of whether defensive weapons can be construed as offensive. The fact remains that both leaders told the world that they are working toward a goal of 50 percent reduction in offensive nuclear weapons. Let's take them for their word.

At this time of the year, our thoughts go easily back to times when we at home were sitting down to turkey and dressing or getting ready to decorate the Christmas tree while young Americans were getting shot at and killed in some far off stinking corner of the earth for reasons no one could explain. That is not happening today and all Americans can be thankful for that.

Be of good cheer. Hail the holidays.

'Solid South' For GOP

Republican leaders in Grant and Antioch townships are ignoring the facts when they continue to insist that they are the heart of Republicanism in Lake County. Maybe once, but no more.

There has been a dramatic shift in voting patterns and one of the facts is that the "Solid South" now is the GOP stronghold in Lake County--the southernmost townships of Cuba (Barrington), Ela (Lake Zurich), Vernon (Buffalo Grove and Lincolnshire) and West Deerfield townships.

As the major part of the 60th Legislative Dist., this territory produced the highest percentage of GOP votes for an unopposed candidate in the last general election in the state. Only one Chicago Democratic district where a candidate was getting a free ride outproduced the 60th. Another fact attesting to the stranglehold Republicans hold in the south end of the county is that Vernon Twp. produced the second highest total of straight Republican votes.

The shift to the south is one of the important reasons why more and more GOP candidates are spending more time in the southern townships. That's where Republicans can "lock it up."

Pearl Harbor Defeat Turned Into Monument

by JOHN STEINKE

On Dec. 7, 1941, the Japanese attack on America's key military installation in Hawaii inflicted a crippling blow to the naval power of the United States in the Pacific. Of 96 ships in the harbor on the Sunday morning of that attack, 18 were sunk or severely damaged. Of the nine battleships in the Pacific Fleet, eight were at Pearl Harbor. All were damaged and three were total losses.

of the island. He picked up a series of blips shortly after 7 a.m., indicating a large number of aircraft 136 miles to the north. Lockhard reported the sighting to his command center, but officers there concluded the blips were either aircraft from a Navy carrier or a flight of B-17 bombers coming in from the U.S. mainland.

The first Japanese warplanes arrived over Pearl harbor at 7:55 a.m., Hawaiian time. They came over the mountains, down the flank of Diamond Head, and along the wide, sweeping Waikiki Beach on their mission of death and destruction. And they left with the first American blood of World War II oozing into the sands of an early morning in Hawaii.

On the northwest side of Ford Island, then a Naval Air Station, the ex-battleship Utah had been converted into a target ship with a concrete deck that confused Japanese pilots into thinking she was an aircraft carrier. The Utah went to the bottom, trapping 54 men inside, in the first few minutes of the attack. The Japanese pilots concentrated on battleship row, where seven of our battlewagons were sitting ducks for torpedoes and bombs. The battleship Oklahoma moored beside the Maryland off Ford Island, was hit by four torpedoes, capsized and sank within 20 minutes. It shielded the Maryland from any major damage. Next in line on the battleship row were the West Virginia and the Tennessee. The West Virginia sank at its berth after being hit by six torpedoes and two bombs. The Tennessee was heavily damaged by two of the armor-piercing bombs.

Then came the Arizona, moored beside the repair ship Vestal. One torpedo caught the 25-year-old vessel amidship, while seven bombs connected on the deck, including the one that found its way to the magazine. The Arizona split in two and sank in 38 feet of water in nine minutes. Only 75 of the 1,177 dead were recovered. The flagship of the proud Pacific fleet, died without firing a shot in anger and with most of her crew still in their bunks as they died. The Vestal was hit by two bombs but managed to get under way and avoid sinking by beaching nearby.

Steinke On Politics

A total of 188 American aircraft were destroyed, and the great percentage of them never left the ground. Another 159 were damaged. Total casualties for the day were 2,403 killed and 1,178 wounded. And the hardest reality of all: the Pearl Harbor attack was the beginning of the Pacific War that lasted more than 3½ years.

The Japanese strike force constituted six aircraft carriers, 22 escort vessels and three advance submarines. The enemy carriers launched a first wave of 183 torpedo planes, dive bombers, horizontal bombers, and fighters followed by a second wave of 170 warplanes.

Two incidents might have tipped off the sleepy island defenders. In the critical hour before the attack, military duty officers ignored these happenings. An hour before the attack began, the destroyer Ward came upon a Japanese midget sub trying to enter the harbor, opened fire with a deck gun and finished it off with depth charges. Both the Ward and a Navy patrol plane that helped spot the sub reported the incident.

Forty miles away, Army Signal Corps Pfc. Joseph Lockhard was manning a radar station at Opana Point on the northwest side

Traffic Jams To Worsen-- That's Reality

by BILL SCHROEDER

You're not alone grouching about local traffic problems. Periodic traffic jams are a Lakeland reality and they're destined to get worse.

The pileup of cars moving in and out of the sprawling Baxter-Travenol Laboratories complex on Wilson Rd., Grant Twp., is a growing headache that company officials and politicians would rather not think about. An intricate flex-time start and quit policy for the more than 4,000 Baxter workers helps disguise the problem.

Traffic routinely backs up, especially in foul weather, at such unsuspected points as Washington and Lake Sts., anywhere along Grand Ave., Belvidere Rd. and Rte. 83, Buckley Rd. coming out of Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Rtes. 173 and 83, to mention a few. We could fill up an entire column pinpointing all the jam spots in these parts.

Time rapidly is approaching when citizens in this locality undoubtedly will band together to organize on traffic problems like residents of communities not too far from here in northern Cook County where the Transportation Partnership for the Northwest Municipal Conference has been formed. The organization serves the area west of Wheeling and south of Barrington.

Interested citizens and public officials held a day-long conference Nov. 21 where solutions were sought dealing with problems like unsnarling Golf and Algonquin Rd. in Rolling Meadows, the second most-traveled intersection in Illinois, or coping with local traffic that will equal bumper-to-bumper line to Atlanta by 1990.

Open space advocates and down-trodden taxpayers should be comforted by the fact that it was brought out at the conference that building more highways isn't the answer. Fancy that!

The partnership is focusing on changing commuters' habits to ease the strain on the highway transportation system like elimination of free parking, peak/off-peak toll prices, remote parking facilities, increased mass transit, flex-time policies and car pooling.

Few communities in economically depressed downstate Illinois are worrying about traffic problems. Local traffic problems stem from our economic good fortune. More and more people and their cars want to share in the good times hereabouts.

Honk if traffic jams boil your blood. OK--Run for the ear muffs!

AMBITION SQUELCHED--Aspirations of some budding politicians were put into mothballs (or shoved to the back burner) when State Sen. David Barkhausen decided to seek reelection and abandon his effort to seek the Republican nomination for Illinois attorney general.

Behind the Arizona, the Nevada was moored alone. After being hit by one torpedo, it managed to get under way in an attempt to escape from the harbor. But five more bombs connected before it could reach the narrow channel and to avoid sinking there and blocking the harbor, the Nevada deliberately grounded. The battleship California, moored alone at the head of Battleship Row, was hit by two bombs and two torpedoes and sank three days later at its berth.

The battleship Pennsylvania serving as a flagship of the Pacific Fleet was in a huge naval shipyard drydock along with the destroyers Downes and Cassin. The Pennsylvania, safe from torpedo attack, was hit by a single 500-pound bomb, but apparently was protected by a shipyard crane that was alongside. The two destroyers, however, were heavily damaged.

During the two-hour, four minute bombardment, the Japanese lost 29 aircraft and five midget submarines, with a total of 45 fliers and nine sailors killed. Vice Admiral Chuichi Nagumo was commander of the Pearl Harbor Strike Force. He ultimately failed to exploit its success. When the initial two waves of planes returned to their carriers, Nagumo ordered the task force

State Rep. Bill Peterson of Vernon Twp., who was ready to move into Barkhausen's seat then revised his plans to campaign to retain his job in the 60th Legislative Dist. serving the southern tier of townships in Lake County.

Among those eager to replace Peterson were Bobbie O'Reilly and Verna Clayton, both of Buffalo Grove; Nancy Block of Prairie View and Bruce Hanson of Lake Zurich. The three gals, we have been told, are willing to wait for another day, while Hanson still is casting about for a political job he can seek.

CONVERT?--Maybe it's too early to consider former Lake County Board Chairman Glenn Miller a convert, but the powerful leader admits that he is looking differently at the possibility of having the chairman run at large with election by popular vote instead of the present highly political "inside" system of selection by fellow board members.

"The time may be coming. I used to be against county-wide election of the chairman, but there may be something to having the chairman elected by the people," Miller observed the other day. Miller is speaking from the perspective of 11 years as a board member and five years as chairman.

Accepted thinking on the question of having the chairman run at-large by those for and against the idea is that a change cannot be made until redistricting takes place with the 1990 census. We think the idea deserves to be explored.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY--The household is abuzz over anticipation of a Thanksgiving visit from Uncle Bill and his family from Florida. They haven't been north for the holidays in 17 years. This trip our niece, Amy, is anxious to get her first glimpse of snow. We'll be pulling out the extra leaves for the dining table and setting up some cots. Mom already has a king-sized turkey ready for the oven. This year Thanksgiving will really be family togetherness. Have a happy holiday!

OFF THE WALL

home. Because the U.S. carriers Lexington and Enterprise were still somewhere at sea, the admiral was concerned about protecting his fleet.

Had he sent in another wave of attackers, however, he could easily have destroyed a huge supply of fuel in above ground tanks. Deprived of that fuel, what was left of the U.S. Pacific Fleet would have had to pull back to West Coast ports, leaving the Pacific to the Japanese. Americans were outraged at what President Franklin D. Roosevelt branded "a day which will live in infamy." The sneak attack galvanized America into a united fury to destroy the Japanese war machine. Pearl Harbor is an exception to the rule that nations build monuments to their victories, not their defeats. In 1962, the U.S.S. Arizona Memorial was opened in the harbor. It is a hero's shrine built over the sunken battleship whose hull still entombs most of her crew. The Arizona remains a symbol of Pearl Harbor, of World War II, of man's treachery toward man.

Next week, we will explore the question: Could President Franklin D. Roosevelt have warned the Hawaiian military command of the impending Japanese attack? (First of a series).

Mandatory Suspension Needed In DUI Offense

by JON SCHULTZ

The DUI, any person-Driving Under (the) Influence (of alcohol), will always remain a threat to highway safety. The most one can hope for in waging a battle against this deadly menace is that, with tougher law-judicial enforcement, the number of potential offenders involving violations of this lethal combination might, one day, be reduced.

For the actual enforcement of more effective DUI penalties, legislation is required which will no longer allow for the option of judicial leniency toward DUI offenders. A Wisconsin woman (DUI), accused of homicide in the hit-an-run death of a pedestrian, was fined $5 by a Circuit Court judge. That is not a misprint-the fine was $5, even though tests proved she was drunk when her car ran down a 23-year-old woman. Her driver's license was revoked for one year (but she was able to apply, immediately, for a restricted "occupational" license by which to drive to and from work), and the judge ordered her to pay a penalty assessment of 60 cents and $20 court costs. This form of judicial idiocy is, unfortunately, not unusual. In New York, a healthy three-year-old was permanently crippled by a man (DUI), whose traffic record included 56 offenses of drinking-driving violations. At the time, the average fine paid by drivers for drinking-driving offenses in New York was $12, while anyone killing a deer out-of-season was fined $1,500. Nationally, the record of penal sentences issued, in past years, for drinking-driving offenses which equalled their crimes was a dismal one; but, admittedly, that has begun to change.

Our nation's staggering DUI problem has, gradually, begun to be affected by the pain and outrage of families and individuals victimized by DUI offenders, their manipulative attorneys, and callous and careless judges; therefore, more attention is now being focused on this disgraceful situation. Although long over due, at least, the "crackdown" has finally begun. Belatedly, the judicial system is beginning to protect the sober public and not the DUI.

In the recent escalation in the war against drinking-driving offenders, states are beginning to enact stronger legislative measures designed to combat the DUI offenders. Examples of the legislation now being considered are: the permanent confiscation of the vehicle(s), owned by the DUI convicted of a third offense; the issuance of special license plates, identifying those drivers convicted of a DUI offense; and the use of unique auto ignition devices which require a coordination test before a car will start.

In Illinois, the DUI violation is a Class A Misdemeanor for which any or all of the following can apply:

- A. Fine not to exceed $1,000.
- B. Imprisonment of up to one year.
- C. Probation for one year or less.

Before any of these penalties can be imposed, however, a court hearing must, first, be held, and, many DUI offenders are able to avoid ever "going to court" by, simply, pleading guilty to a lesser charge with the provision that they complete an assigned DUI program, consisting of a session of lectures, movies and counseling. For those who do "go to court," the judges still differ greatly on the penalties they impose. This, simply, must change. The courts must be prevented from having option but that of imposing mandatory sentences.

The penalty for the first DUI offense must be changed, nationally, to a mandatory one year's suspension of the driver's license.

Editor's note: Jon Schultz, a senior at Carmel High School for Boys, Mundelein, wrote the article on DUI as an assignment for advanced English placement. He is a resident of Woodstock.

Mutual Aid

Editor:

I have been reading, with some amazement, the articles concerning the Lake Villa Volunteer Fire Dept. and the trustees of the Lake Villa Twp. Fire Protection Dist.

It is hard to believe so many people are so poorly informed as to their exceptionally fine service.

The hue and cry seems to be coming particularly from some residents of Lindenhurst. Don't they realize their area is protected not only by the Lake Villa Department but also from the stations in Gurnee, Antioch, and if necessary, Grayslake?

In western Lake County the fire districts work very closely with each other. Many years ago, they worked out a very efficient mutual aid policy.

The residents of the western side of the district have apparently been aware for some time that fire fighters from the Fox Lake, Antioch and Round Lake departments will provide aid as needed. This section of the township has as many or more residents than the Village of Lindenhurst and is farther from the fire station in the Village of Lake Villa.

Residents of Lindenhurst should look closely at the reasons for diminishing their fire protection system and substituting a potentially understaffed local station at huge taxpayers expense.

I have always followed the advice of the old adage, "If it isn't broken, don't fix it."

State Makes Plans For King Holiday

Coretta Scott King

On Jan. 20, 1986, the State of Illinois will observe Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday as a holiday for the first time. Illinois has been celebrating this day for over a decade, but is the first state to declare it a holiday.

Legislation to enact the holiday on a national level became law only last year.

Coretta Scott King, widow of the slain civil rights leader, stated at a luncheon/meeting sponsored by the Illinois Holiday Commission, that she hopes "Jan. 20 will be more than just a day off." The statewide media luncheon held Nov. 6 at Johnson Publishing Co. in Chicago, was attended by religious and civic leaders including Chicago Mayor Harold Washington.

King said "It must be a day for all Americans to come together and commit themselves to the fulfilling of his dream." The widow went on to say we must celebrate the holiday with reflection of her husband's principals of non-violence, peace and love.

A 100-member state council was formed earlier this year by Gov. James Thompson, who serves as chairman of the federal commission.

Lake County Board Commissioner Andrea Moore, a member of the statewide commission, said that she is hopeful that people in Lake County will work along with the state to help make Dr. King's holiday a memorable one.

Commemorative activities in Illinois will include numerous activities from the religious, labor, education, business and youth communities.

Scrumptious Side Dishes For Those Holiday Meals

I usually make it a point to prepare Thanksgiving dinner, but steer clear of the kitchen at Christmas. That held true until last year.

We dined out that Thanksgiving. Boy, was I disappointed. The turkeys were dried out and scorched.

My wife's closest friend prepared two small turkeys, but failed to take my advice. I often spread the word that the best way to start a turkey is breast down, roast it in that position until half done, turn it over, place foil over the breast and remove when the bird is ready for final browning. It only takes 15 minutes to adequately brown a big breast.

Anita's friend also left the turkeys in the oven instead of foiling them and letting both stand on the counter until ready to serve. My thumb had more meat on it than my drumstick.

For Christmas, I decided to cook. At first, I was hot to roast a goose. Instead, I fixed a Southern-style dinner, including black-eyed peas and butter biscuits.

Anita took care of the ham. My wife boiled a 13-pounder to get rid of some salt and saved the skin for a future bean dish as she always does. She smeared on a little mustard and brown sugar when the ham was ready for baking, but left off the pineapple rings and cherries because I made raisin sauce.

I also prepared candied sweet potatoes from scratch. I'm not a great lover of sweet potatoes. I often doctored canned yams for guests at Thanksgiving, but prefer good old mashed potatoes and giblet gravy.

I must admit, modestly, the sweet potatoes were a hit at the dinner attended by eight other adults and a dozen children, including two boys who ate like pro linebackers.

One girl was crazy about my raisin sauce. There was one leftover: the ham bone for Anita's beans.

Raisin Sauce

1 cup seedless raisins
1 1/4 cups water
5 whole cloves
3/4 cup brown sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
pinch of black pepper
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon cider vinegar
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

In small saucepan, cover raisins with water, add cloves and simmer 10 minutes. Combine sugar, cornstarch, salt and pepper, add and stir until thickened. Add remaining ingredients and stir until butter melts. Serve hot over thinly sliced baked ham. Yields 1 1/2 cups.

Pilot Light GREG MELIKOV

Candied Sweet Potatoes

6 large sweet potatoes, boiled, cooled and peeled
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
1/4 cup butter, cut up
12 pieces orange peel
3/4 cup water

Slice potatoes 1/4-inch thick. Place first layer in buttered 3-quart casserole; sprinkle on some sugar and cinnamon and dot with some butter. Add two more layers, repeating process. Top with orange peel. Add water and bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Discard orange peel. Serves nine-12.

Wedding

Halvorson/Groble

Beth Halvorson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Halvorson, Round Lake Beach, and Thomas Groble of Prospect Heights, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Groble, Chicago, were joined in marriage at 1:30 p.m., on Sept. 28 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Round Lake by Father Thomas Drolet.

The bride was given away by her father during the double ring ceremony.

She chose a gown which featured an organza skirt with a cathedral train. The bodice was re-embroidered alecon lace with an illusion neckline trimmed with seed pearl and mother of pearl. To complete the outfit she wore a hat with a fingertip veil.

The matron of honor was Karen (Peter) Johnson, best friend of the bride.

Bridesmaids were Karen Scott and Rebecca Loos, both friends of the bride, and Deanne Halvorson, sister of the bride.

Best man was Robert Groble, brother of the groom.

Groomsmen were Raymond Groble, brother of the groom, Darrell Lucente, friend of the groom and Michael Halvorson, brother of the bride.

Friends and relatives from Georgia, Washington, D.C., New Mexico, Washington, Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and the Chicago area attended the reception which was held at Maravella's.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to West Palm Beach, Fla. and will be making their home in Vernon Hills.

The bride received an associate degree from the College of Lake County and a bachelor of science in business administration from the University of Illinois. She is presently employed by MedLine in Mundelein.

The groom received a masters in business administration in finance from the University of Illinois. He was a member of Phi Kappa Theta fraternity. He is employed by Abbott Laboratories in North Chicago.

New Hope For Women Who Change Their Mind

When Mrs. Gordon (Karen) Gonyo of Antioch had her third child in 1979, she and her husband thought their family was complete. So Karen had her tubes "tied." (The fallopian tubes were severed in a procedure called tubal ligation.) A few years later, Karen was divorced.

In time, Karen married Gordon Gonyo. He loves, and is "great with children," his wife confided, "but had none of his own." The Gonyos' dearly wanted another child. Thinking it was impossible, Karen put the thought out of her mind.

But not long ago, the Antioch resident read that a surgical procedure reconnecting the fallopian tubes (anastomosis) was being done in Texas. Karen asked her gynecologist, Victory Memorial Hospital staff physician, Frank Sun, M.D., whether he knew of some place she could go to have the procedure done. It came as a surprise to Karen that her own doctor was doing the reversals.

Dr. Sun had taken special post graduate training in this microsurgical technique at the University of California School of Medicine at Irvine.

The doctor explained to her that with new microsurgical equipment available at Victory Hospital and its operating room staff, which has been specially trained to assist in the complex procedure, he was performing an increasing number of anastomoses there.

Although Dr. Sun was conservative in his estimate of the chances of his patient becoming pregnant, Karen was optimistic. "I always thought it would work," she said confidentially. The mother of three was right. After her surgery and a few months of waiting time, it took Karen only two months to become pregnant.

"I found out that I was pregnant after I took a home pregnancy test," she reported. Dr. Sun confirmed it, and he also performed an ultrasound to be assured that Karen was having a normal—not an ectopic (tubal) pregnancy.

On Friday, Aug. 30, Karen gave birth at Victory Hospital to an eight-pound, 10-and-a-half-ounce girl, Karissa Dorothy Gonyo. The parents are ecstatic.

New Hope

Karen and Gordon Gonyo, left, with the assistance of Victory Memorial Hospital staff physician Dr. Frank Sun, M.D., welcome their new daughter, Karissa Dorothy, on Aug. 30 thanks to a new surgical procedure reconnecting the fallopian tubes.

AARP Joins Christmas Parade

The Antioch Area Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons held its Nov. 12 meeting, with Pres. Sam Lombardo presiding. The Annual canned goods drive for the Thanksgiving baskets was very successful.

Vicki Bock announced that there would be five decorated cars, featuring AARP, in the Christmas Parade, Nov. 30. Please bring candy, cookies, hand lotion, etc. for the Christmas boxes for the Aged people in Lake Villa.

The bake sale and prize awarding have been cancelled for the Nov. 26 meeting, it will be held after Christmas.

Pres. Lombardo, after consulting with AARP State Director, Virginia Marquardt, announced some changes that have been in contention for some time.

The doors are open to any senior with a paid up national card. Anybody on the waiting list will be notified by letter and no more waiting lists in the future. No more saving of seats at the meetings, so get there early.

Mr. Bennett from AARP Area 5, distributed a booklet, "More Health for Your Dollar." He gave a slide presentation on HMO. Robert Ullrich is going to get more information on local availability of these services.

An apology to Frances Winiecki for not being mentioned as co-chairperson at the White Elephant Sale.

The Kitchen Band will make their debut at the Thanksgiving Party on Nov. 26 and have an open invitation to play at a senior party in Lake Villa on Dec. 8.

Exchange Program Offers Wide Selection

by PAT DE ANGELIS

Question: Can you recommend a nutritionally sound food group exchange program for maintaining weight control for an ovo-lacto (egg-milk) vegetarian? Question submitted by R.S.

Answer: A food exchange program offers a wide selection of foods by advocating exchanges that you can trade or substitute of one food for another. This particular program has five groups of exchanges. Any food in one group can be exchanged with another food in the same group.

If a food has a substantial amount of more than one nutrient, the second or third food group is indicated and must be counted toward the daily total of each nutrient amount.

For example, one cup of lentils are equal to one protein exchange, to be counted toward a daily total of four exchanges, plus one starch exchange, to be counted toward a daily total of three exchanges.

A food exchange program can be designed for a variety of diet purposes. An ovo-lacto vegetarian diet eliminates animal protein foods, except dairy products which have been included in this vegetarian food exchange.

The program I suggest incorporates basic nutrition with an adjustment of the food groups to allow more quantity of food, easier digestibility and utilization of the nutrients than an exchange program submitted by R.S. This program eliminates high calorie, low nutritional value foods that most weight management exchange plans permit.

The simple ratio system of three complex carbohydrate foods (vegetables, fruit, whole grains) to 1 protein (animal or vegetable source) and one fat food per meal can be effectively utilized for restaurant brown bag lunches and at home.

Vegetarian Food Exchange

Protein exchange: Three to four daily protein exchanges should be selected. These should include four to seven dairy product selections a week. The average adult requirement for protein has been listed as 45 to 60 grams daily. However, studies of vegetarianism indicates that balanced properly with complex carbohydrate foods, an average vegetable protein requirement of 25 to 30 grams daily. Vegetable source protein is easier to utilize than animal source.

In the following list of suggested foods, the abbreviation pro stands for protein.

14 gm. pro. tofu - 6 oz., 2 gm. pro. alfalfa sprouts - 1/2 cup or more; 14 gm. pro. low fat cottage cheese - 1/2 cup; 7 gm. pro. soy milk - 1 cup, 2 gm. pro. per serving legumes (cooked) - in order to obtain complete protein need to be combined with a whole grain at the same meal. Split peas - 1/2 cup, red kidney beans - 1/2 cup, black beans - 1/2 cup, adzuki beans - 1/2 cup, garbanzo (chick peas) beans - 1 cup includes 1 starch exchange, lentils - 1/2 cup includes 1 starch exchange, pinto beans - 1/2 cup includes 1 starch exchange, white beans - 1/2 cup includes 1 starch exchange, soy beans - 1/2 cup includes 1 starch exchange; black eyed peas - 1/4 cup includes 1 starch exchange, 8 gm. pro. Nut-butters - 2 Tbsp. includes 1 fat exchange, 8 gm. pro. Tahini butter (sesame seed) - 2 Tbsp. includes 1 fat exchange, 2 gm. pro.

Filberts (Hazelnuts) - 11 each includes 1 fat exchange, 7 gm. pro. Yogurt low fat - plain - 1 cup includes 1 fat exchange, 7 gm. pro. 2 percent milk - 1 cup includes 1 fat exchange, 7 gm. pro. Egg - 1 large includes 1 fat exchange, 12 gm. pro. Almonds - 10 each includes 2 protein and 1 fat exchange, 6 gm. pro. Pecan Halves - 10 each includes 2 protein and 1 fat exchange, 7 gm. pro. Cashews - 8 each includes 2 protein and 1 fat exchange, 6 gm. pro. Pumpkin seeds - 1/4 cup includes 2 fat exchanges and 6 gm. pro. Sunflower seeds - 1/4 cup includes 2 fat exchanges.

Pat D's Nutrition Today

Pat DeAngelis is a nutrition consultant to American International Hospital, Zion. Readers with questions about the food and liquid they consume are invited to address questions to Pat D's Nutrition Today, Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, Ill. 60030.

Starch exchanges: one starch exchange per meal for a total of three starch exchanges daily is recommended. Two gram protein per serving.

Cereals: cold unsweetened 1/2 cup, Puffed cereal 1 cup, Shredded wheat 1 biscuit, cooked - hot cereal 1/2 cup, breads: Wheat (100 percent whole) - 1 to 2 slices daily, Rye 1 to 2 slices daily and Wheat English muffin - 1/2 of muffin.

Starchy Vegetables: corn - 1/2 cup or 1 small ear, peas - 1/2 cup, potato - 1 small white or sweet, legumes - as listed in protein exchanges, popcorn (unbuttered) - 2 cups.

Grains: rice or barley (cooked) - 1/2 cup, Corn Grits (cooked) - 1/2 cup, whole wheat or rye crackers - 3 each.

Vegetable exchanges: four to six exchanges per day. Two grams of protein per serving.

Offer Child Seminar

The College of Lake County (CLC) will be the site for "Not One More Child: Seminar for All Social Service Providers," a one-day seminar on child sexual abuse.

Mary Jo Barrett, executive director of Midwest Family Resource, will present the seminar.

The conference is designed for those involved with counseling services for victims and/or intervention services for offenders. This includes social workers, psychologists, psychiatrists, counselors, juvenile/youth workers, clergy and religious workers, and crisis intervention workers.

Cost for the seminar is $35 in advance and $45 at the door. For advance registration and further information, call (312) 223-3615.

Offer Driver Program

In an effort to reduce the number of auto accidents caused by drunk drivers, Victory Memorial Hospital has begun a "Designated Driver" program this holiday season.

"We are asking citizens to help us cut down on alcohol-related car accidents by not leaving home without designating a driver, who will drive and not drink alcohol," explained Terry Strickland, director of the Chemical Dependency Unit at Victory Hospital.

Mr. Strickland is organizing local bar and tavern owners to offer incentives to designate drivers from Dec. 15 through Jan. 1. The schedule for this program coincides with National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week. Participating establishments will offer free soft drinks to those wearing "Designated Driver" identification supplied by Victory Hospital.

The Board of Directors, Victory Hospital administration, and numerous city and state officials are supporting the "designated driver" effort.

"Part of our responsibility as a community hospital is health promotion," said Strickland.

"If you talk to the victims of drunk drivers, as we do much too often in our own emergency room, you would understand how tragic and volatile a mix alcohol and automobiles can be. The time has come for us to take an active role, and possibly save some lives this holiday season," he added.

For further information, or to register as a "Designated Driver," call (312) 688-HELP.

Decorations To Maintain Ties To Former Mansion

An extensive interior redecorating that reflects the historic origins of the Country Squire Restaurant is now under way at the 225 seat facility in Grayslake.

The major renovation, designed and constructed by C.F. Tassos & Associates, will feature custom-made carpeting and wallcoverings, new chandeliers, new furnishings and other new appointments.

The Country Squire Restaurant was originally built in 1938 as the spacious residence of Wesley Sears of the Sears department store family. The home was converted to a restaurant in 1954.

"We have researched the decor used in the original Sears mansion and will replicate the elegant design and fine appointments in the renovation," says Tassos Chronopoulos, president of C.F. Tassos & Associates. "The country charm and stately atmosphere that prevailed when the Sears family entertained the cream of Chicago society will be preserved and enhanced."

The restaurant will remain open during the renovation. The project will be completed in December.

C.F. Tassos & Associates is an architectural, construction and interior design firm based in Hinsdale. Tassos is also building a Country Squire banquet facility that will be ready next spring.

Your Next Electric Bill May Shock You.

1. Are electric rates up?
Yes.

2. Will your November bill be higher?

Probably not.

Likely, it will be lower than last November. And the November before.

As you know, the Illinois Commerce Commission has set lower rates for the eight non-summer months than for summer months.

So very little of the rate increase will be reflected in any non-summer bill.

A key reason your November bill may actually be lower than in previous years is that you are directly receiving the savings from increased use of nuclear fuel.

3. Will summer bills be higher?

Yes.

But perhaps not as high as you've been led to believe.

Summer rates now are much higher than non-summer rates. In the near future, we'll file a petition with the Illinois Commerce Commission to average the rates more evenly over the full year.

If the petition is successful, summer rates will still be higher, but not as high as now planned.

Typical November electric bills for average Commonwealth Edison residential customers, 1983-85.

4. How much does electricity really cost?

Everyone uses electricity a little differently.

But when you average out all the electricity used by residential Commonwealth Edison customers for the year, the cost per household comes to only $1.95 a day. The price of a magazine. A car wash. A double dip ice cream cone.

Edgar Offers Road Option To Schools

Secretary of State Jim Edgar has announced that he has invited school districts in Illinois to participate in a new drivers education program which would eliminate duplicate road tests for above-average students.

Under the program, students who do well on a high school behind-the-wheel test would not have to take a second road test at a drivers examining station.

"Under no circumstances will any teenager get a drivers license without a certified road test," Edgar said.

"If a student has passed a high school's certified road test and classroom instruction with a grade of A or B, it is unnecessary duplication to require a second road test for that student," he added.

To qualify for the program, high schools would have to submit drive test plans for certification by the secretary of state. The tests would have to contain elements identical to the state drivers exam to be eligible for certification.

Edgar added that the proposal would be a convenience to parents of teenagers who must now spend time away from their jobs to take their children to get a drivers license.

He also said eliminating the second road test for good students would result in improved service at all drivers facilities, particularly for seniors.

High school drivers education programs already provide comprehensive classroom instruction and six hours of behind-the-wheel work covering the same criteria included in a state drive test. Adoption of this program represents a full recognition of the work already being done in high school drivers education classes.

Letters to school superintendents inviting them to participate in the program will be mailed this week. Administrative rules adopting the high school drive test program could be in place by the end of the year.

Pet of the Week

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruff of Ingleside don't have to worry much about burglars; not with their canine residents to protect them from any uninvited guests. Pictured are Mr. Ruff, Chelsa and Tasha. Chelsa is a collie and Tasha, a malamute-husky mix. Mrs. Ruff calls them her "stamp dogs" because they are identical to dogs which appeared on a postage stamp issued a few years ago. Besides protection, the canine duo provides companionship for the Ruff's. If anyone would like to introduce their pet to Lakeland readers, please contact the editor of this newspaper.

Nurses Award Schaffer With Yearly Honor

Sen. Jack Schaffer has been selected as the 1985 Legislator of the Year, by SNAPI (State Nurses Active in Politics in Illinois), the political action arm of the Illinois Nurses Assn.

"By an 85 percent-voting record on health care and professional nursing issues, Sen. Schaffer has demonstrated his concern for quality health care for the citizens of Illinois," said Greg Parker, chairperson of SNAPI.

Parker added that Senator

Schaffer was also instrumental in the promotion and passage of INA's legislation to make important changes in the Baccalaureate Assistance Law for Registered Nurses.

The Illinois Nurses' Assn., the professional organization representing registered nurses in Illinois, established SNAPI to provide nurses with a means to become politically active on behalf of candidates who support nursing goals.

The Legislator of the Year

Award was created to recognize Illinois Legislators, such as Sen. Jack Schaffer, who have been outstanding advocates of health care.

"As the largest group of health care providers in this state, registered nurses have a genuine concern about health care issues," Parker said. "We are proud to honor Sen. Schaffer with this award for his efforts on behalf of registered nurses and quality health care."

Award For Schaffer

Pat Miller, RN, presents Senator Jack Schaffer with the 1985 SNAPI Legislator of the Year Award for outstanding support of nursing and health care issues. Ms. Miller is vice-chairperson of the Board of Trustees of SNAPI of the State Nurses Active in Politics in Illinois, which is the political arm of the Illinois Nurses Assn. The award was presented at the 68th Biennial Convention of the Illinois Nurses Assn. (INA).

As Director of Corporate Safety and Loss Prevention at Abbott Laboratories, Kinsley is responsible for the implementation and enforcement of several company safety programs which benefit thousands.

Half of Kinsley's division, or Corporate Safety, is responsible for the administration of personnel safety programs on the corporate level, while the other half, loss prevention, is concerned with ensuring that all equipment and machines are in top state of repair.

According to Kinsley in 1984 Abbott had an injury frequency rate of 2.7, which meant that for every 400 employees, only one employee suffered a loss time accident causing a loss of one or more days from work.

Kinsley said that this average is 15 times better than the U.S. industry average.

He attributes the company's successful performance to Abbott's entire management team, and its employees.

"Safety is not just the responsibility of my division, but our entire management, personnel and line man staff," said Kinsley. All of these people work very hard to administer Abbott policies regarding safety," said Kinsley.

One way this is achieved is by "blending safety with operations training," said Kinsley.

This means that each employee, depending upon the type of job that they are assigned to, must undergo additional training, outside of the company's generic safety program, to insure that they know how to operate machinery or equipment at a specific job.

One such program at Abbott is its' CHAP, (Chemical Hazard Awareness Program). Instituted four years ago, the program helps instruct employees who are working around or with chemicals proper usage and safeguards.

George Kinsley

Kinsley said that another practice of his division is to make sure that employees are wearing the proper protective equipment, such as safety shoes for those working in warehousing, and overhead and eye gear that might protect an employee from flying particles.

Kinsley said that programs such as these along with annual inspections of all equipment helps make for a safer environment at Abbott.

Aging Agency Reelects Reps

Representatives of Lake County met with approximately 130 other advocates for the elderly at the Annual Meeting of the Region Two Agency on Aging, held earlier this month. Victor Wirth, executive director of the Illinois Retired Teachers Assn., was the featured speaker.

Louis S. Palka, Sr., of Mundelein, was reappointed for a three-year term as a Lake County representative on the agency's advisory council. The board honored Randy R. Ross, of Zion, who served as the council's second vice chairman in 1985.

Check Cashing Takes Off With Earlybird

H. B. Harbinger Service, of Gurnee, is trying to cash in on the agony of standing in checkout lines with a computerized machine interfaced with the cash register that automatically fills out the customers' check. All the customer then has to do is sign it.

The machine can also check the customer's credit with his credit or debit card. To save the store's accounting time, the machine, the size of a shoe box, can prepare the check for deposit by encoding the bottom of the check in special magnetic ink characters required for bank processing, and by endorsing the back of the check.

The machine is the creation of William C. Scheurer, 35, of Lindenhurst, founder and president of the company, now with a staff of only six officers, including himself.

A lawyer and former employee of Allstate Insurance Co., Scheurer had for years contemplated new ideas to improve the check payment industry. According to his estimate, more than 40 billion checks were written in the United States last year with the average consumer writing about 10 checks each month at the point of sale.

HB Harbinger has a robin as its logo. HB stands for home banking. The two-year-old company was first incorporated under the name of Combined Data Services.

A prototype of the machine, Earlybird One, was displayed at the recent Food Marketing Institute show in Chicago and was well received by grocery chain executives, Scheurer said. Prototypes of the machine will be tested early next year at several supermarket chain stores including Jewel, Scheurer said.

If the tests are successful, the machine will go into production, with an expected 150,000 units turned out in three years. The company is presently operating on borrowed money with about $300,000 in equity and about $1 million in debt. That doesn't seem to bother Scheurer, who has put $45,000 of his own money into the venture and said, "We know we are going to succeed." Harbinger's officers haven't received a salary for the past four-and-a-half months.

Plans call for the company to sell four million shares of stock at $1 a share, directly to the public, employing no underwriters, brokers, or dealers.

"I showed Julie Crosby how she could earn $70,304 more at retirement..."

Madeline Schwechter, Senior Customer Service Representative, uses her expertise to help Skokie Federal customers make the most of their money.

"Just because an IRA is opened at one institution doesn't mean that the funds are sentenced to remain there for life. Many people don't realize how easy and profitable it can be to transfer entire IRA funds to higher earning insured accounts... like our 5-Year IRA Bonus Certificate.

"For example, I showed Julie Crosby how she could earn $70,304 more at retirement by transferring all her IRA funds into our 5-Year IRA Bonus CD. She had accumulated $7,280 in an IRA that was due to mature at another institution. Because our 5-year bonus rate is 1/2% higher than what she could get if she simply let her funds rollover, she could earn $505,913 in interest after 32 years rather than $435,609 at the other institution.* By having Julie sign one simple form, we can transfer her funds, and she'll be on her way to retiring $70,304 richer.

"While I may not be able to bring instant wealth to my customers with this kind of advice, I can help them to secure a better future. That makes me proud to be a part of the Skokie Federal team."

*This assumes that she continues to contribute $2,000 annually to her IRA, rates remain constant, and she will earn an average annual yield of 10.00%. As of November 21, 1985 the rate of our 5-Year Bonus CD is 9.60% yielding 10.22% annually. This rate is subject to change.

Thanksgiving Holiday Sees Seasonal Change

Ordering Thanksgiving turkey from the chef at the Boca Raton Hotel and Club, in Florida, might be the long, but easy way to celebrate the holiday.

When Marcus Fields, director of that famous establishment, was in Chicago last week, he pointed out a new Boca Raton relationship now exists with Chicagoland. This internationally recognized resort will celebrate its 60 anniversary next year. But two years ago it became the property of a Chicago firm.

Now, with 1003 rooms available, one of their goals is to encourage the home-away-from-home relationship among metropolitan travelers. "We are quite simply the best," says Fields, "and we'd like to prove it."

When thinking of turkey, one cannot overlook the asiatic land of the same name...so talked with Gordon Quarntstrom, world travel writer just returned from Turkey. He straightened me out on the bird by saying, in Turkey they call a strain of the turkey family, an India. Looks like everybody blames this bird on some other country.

Not observing our traditional Thanksgiving celebration in Turkey, the India is famous as a New Years Eve dinner. Istanbul, a city of five million, offers the unusual possibility of travel by boat from Europe to the continent of Asia for 30 cents, with help of the good ferry. Turkey welcomes Americans and 30 years ago attracted Hilton's first International Hotel. Quarntstrom said that $16 is an average price for a hotel room, including breakfast.

Chicago travelers will find Swissair as the prime servicing airline...and there is still time if you really want your turkey in Turkey.

Thanksgiving has yet another connotation for travelers; that of the seasonal change from fall to winter. Wisconsin offers a new 72-page booklet titled: Wisconsin's Escape to Fall and Winter. It may be obtained by calling, toll free, 1-800-ESCAPES. Or, 1-800-345-1020 will bring closer resource information from the Geneva Lakes area.

Thanksgiving additionally produces a bumper crop of kids' parades and Santa-showings as the Christmas season launches. Don't overlook bargains in family travel at exchange advantage prices. If Santa was called Saint Nicholas by your family, chances are someone came from the Netherlands.

Currently, KLM Royal Dutch Airlines offer an "amazing, double occupancy, "Amsterdam Weekend" for less than $500 per person. That includes round trip airfare from Chicago, trainfare from airfield to hotel, three nights in Amsterdam, a daily Dutch breakfast, a canalboat ride and an $8 shopping voucher. For details, call KLM, toll free, at 800-556-7777, or ask your travel agent.

It's also time to think south. Last month's reintroduction to the Mississippi Gulf Coast left us with a desire to return. Even for those with a farther south, final destination, it's Chicagoland's closest sea coast. A popular attraction is golf. While we have snow here, their 14 courses magnetize northerners.

For details, contact Harrison County's Gulf Coast Tourism Office, Box 4554, Siloxi, MI., 39631, or call, 601-388-8000.

Walworth Beckons Winter

There's no need for a long trip when seeking a pleasant R and R destination. Walworth, one of Wisconsin's southernmost counties, has it all...only a short drive away.

Into it are tucked famous recreational lakes, including Geneva, Delavan, Como, Lauderdale and many others. All offer winter pleasures sought by those wishing to change scenery and humdrum schedules. Famous resorts, such as The Abbey, Americana, Fontana, Interlachen, Lake Lawn and Lauderdale, share visitor hospitality with nearly a half-hundred smaller inns and motels. Many of the less sophisticated group also offer recreational services, skiing, swimming and surge pool spas.

Minimum winter rates extend visitor budgets to a broad spectrum of pleasant get-aways close to a smorgasbord of g-and-outdoor activities.

Fast, family, ethnic and fancy food locales provide unlimited dining opportunities. Walworth sparkles at all times, but especially in white, new-fallen snow, etched with ski tracks and snowmobile trails. Trails made by explorers of scenic Kettle Moraine hills and valleys, carved 20,000 years ago by the great Wisconsin glaciers.

Walworth County presents a combination of nature's wonderland and man's best offerings. For details, call Geneva Lakes Area Visitors Bureau, 1-800-345-1020, for write for brochures to Walworth County Tourism, Box 1007, Elkhorn, WI. 53121.

Fitzgibbons Gets Head Football Mentor Spot

by MIKE PRAMSHAFFER

Carmel High School For Boys has named Mike Fitzgibbons as the next head coach for the varsity football Corsairs.

Fitzgibbons, who has been on the Carmel coaching staff for 10 years now, is replacing Jim Rejc as the head mentor. Rejc had just recently resigned from the post earlier this month.

The new coach is coming off a successful five-year term with the Carmel sophomore squad, leading them to a 25-19-1 record over the five-year span.

The last three years saw the sophomores go 20-6-1 under the successful Fitzgibbons.

After his first two disastrous years as head sophomore coach (5-13 overall record), Fitzgibbons went to the varsity level for two years to help out as defensive coordinator. He then returned to the sophomore level and led his teams to three consecutive successful years (the 20-6-1 record mentioned above).

Fitzgibbons, who turns 30 years-old in December, resides in Lake Zurich.

He said the transition from head sophomore coach to head varsity coach will go fairly smooth because he will be coaching most of the players for a second time.

"The fact that I have already coached these kids once, when they were sophomores, will help the transition go a little smoother. The kids know me and we get along great," Fitzgibbons said.

Athletic Director Bud Grover is very happy to have Fitzgibbons aboard the varsity ship.

"Mike (Fitzgibbons) has the knowledge and enthusiasm that we're looking for and I think he can definitely do the job," Grover said.

"He has a positive approach, which is very important, and he cares for the young people," Grover added.

There Are Many Things To Be Thankful For

By CHARLENE WHITNEY

There are many things to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving Day. One of these things is that we have plenty to eat. This is not the case in some countries.

Many of us will sit down to a bird feast such as duck, turkey, goose or chicken. The original bird for Thanksgiving was the wild turkey. Now, the wild turkey is protected.

From these wild turkeys came the various breeds of domestic turkeys. The domestic turkey is three times larger and it weighs about sixty pounds.

In our country, we raise plenty of geese, chickens, turkeys, ducks, etc. They are raised in only the healthiest conditions and cleaned and packaged for us to take home.

We can be thankful for the beauty of the many types of birds around us. Some of the kinds of wild geese are: the Graylag goose, Canadian goose, Brant goose, Bean goose, Hawaiian goose, etc. There are domestic birds that are pets and some are used in fairs and shows, too.

We eat the eggs and we use the eggs in mixes. Sometimes, the egg shells are used for art and make lovely pictures, etc.

Watching ducks and geese on ponds gives pleasure and keeps the insect population under control.

The feathers have many uses, such as in pillows, clothing and art.

shows.

There are so many types of birds to enjoy. Some sing lovely songs. Many are beautiful, some have unusual ways about them. Some are rare and others, plentiful. Birds control the number of insects so crops can grow.

We can be so thankful for

Pet-Wise

Geese have been raised since the days of ancient Rome. This was easy because they are not sensitive to temperature changes.

Chickens of today are all descendants of wild jungle fowl. Some are raised for good eating, some for good egg-laying and some for bird all the types of birds around us. Whether a bird be a pet, food, entertainment by sight or song, or just interesting to watch and study, we should be thankful for them. Birds have so much to offer us. However, I'm glad I am not a bird around the holidays.

Have a happy, thankful Thanksgiving.

Playing Keep-Away

Sequoits Gearing Up For Broncos

Head coach Don Zeman is expecting a tough game from the Broncos. "They're big and physical. The winner of this game is going to be decided inside, under the boards," he said.

Antioch will then play the Libertyville Wildcats on Nov. 29 and Elgin Larkin on Nov. 30.

Zeman hopes to improve on last year's overall mark and there's no better way to do it than to win this Thanksgiving classic.

The Sequoits will have returning lettermen Dave Grindley (6-7) and Don Gunther (6-4) leading the way, with seniors Rick Reitmayer (6-5), Matt Weber (6-4), Mike McGrain (5-11) and Sean Wiltse (5-10) adding strong support to their attack.

The Antioch Sequoits will travel to Barrington Nov. 27 to play the Broncos in the opening round of the Barrington Thanksgiving Holiday tournament.

Antioch Faster

Coach Harold Abramson, whose team ended last season at the top of the North Suburban Conference, winning the regionals and bowing at the sectional level, is looking to equal last season's play and better it if possible.

Antioch High School's girls' varsity team will open its season on Dec. 3 against Glenbrook-South at Glen-brook.

"We're not as tall as we were last year, but we are faster, so that might do it," he said hopefully.

His returning lettermen are senior forward Denise Maple (5-11), junior power guard Julie Sexton (5-7), senior forward Shannon Gooch (5-11), and senior guard Kim Alfano (5-6).

Lambright Sparkles In Carmel's Inaugural

Big 10 coaches Lou Henson of Illinois and Gene Keady of Purdue, came to see Hersey's towering center, (6-11) Ted Markham, start the new basketball season against Carmel.

But the "big man" on the floor was Rodney Lambright, Corsair senior guard, defensive whiz, rebounder, hustler deluxe and sharp shooter.

The (5-10) North Chicago senior paced Carmel with 22 points on nine baskets and four for eight from the freethrow line, doing everything but turn out the gym lights as Hersey nipped Carmel 63-57 on the Huskie's home court Friday, Nov. 22.

It was Hersey's second straight win over Carmel, the first victory coming last March at Evanston when the Arlington Heights school ended Carmel's state tournament bid in the super-sectionals.

A hot first quarter when the outscored Carmel 24-17 enabled Hersey to set the pace although the new look Corsairs actually outscored Hersey the rest of the way.

Failure to convert freethrows cost Carmel the game which was tied twice in the final three minutes when Wildwood's Rod Whittier put in two quick baskets on a layup after a steal and a jumper.

The more experienced Huskies went into a stall to keep the unrushing Corsairs at bay in the fourth quarter.

Despite the opening game loss, Coach Frank Belmont was pleased with the overall performance of his revamped team, especially the reserves who spelled starters Whittier, Lambright, George France of Waukegan, Scott Peterson of Lake Zurich and Rob Graham of Libertyville.

A key man off the bench was Dan Halverson of Wauconda who contributed three baskets. Other scoring went Whittier 8, France 9, Peterson 8, and Graham 6.

Coach Jay Hoffman's sophs started with a win, taking the Hersey underclassmen 58-50 after jumping off to a 10-0 lead.

Rams Lose, Groth Still Optimistic

by DAN O'SHEA

The Grayslake Rams will be looking for their first win of the basketball season when they begin play Wednesday night in the Round Lake Thanksgiving tournament.

The Rams play Cary Grove at 6 p.m. the first night, take time off for the holiday and play Wauconda at 6 p.m. Friday. They finish up the round robin tourney against the host Panthers Saturday night at 7:30.

Greg Groth's varsity basketball coaching career didn't start off too well last Friday night, Nov. 22 as his Grayslake team was defeated by the Crystal Lake Central Tigers 66-46.

The Tigers were helped to victory by the fact that the Rams shot only 23 percent from the field. "We took a lot of shots we shouldn't have taken," commented Groth.

At the end of the first quarter the Rams were only losing by three points, but by half the visiting Tigers had widened the margin to six.

Within the first minute of the third period, however, the Rams cut the lead to only two points, 25-23, with consecutive baskets by Tom Castino and John Lui.

The Tigers came right back though, and with the help of 25 free throws in the second half, including 17 in a row at one point, were able to beat the Rams. "When we came close we lost our composure," said Groth.

Lui, a (6-1) senior forward, led the Rams in scoring with 11 points, including three for four from the free throw line. Senior guard Tom Castino, who fouled out in the fourth quarter, followed with 10 points and was four of seven from the line. Andy Flood, a (6-2) junior forward had seven points and (6-3) Jeff West, a senior forward, had five points. The Tigers' Jeff Aldridge led all scorers with 13 points.

One of the Rams' big aims going into the game, according to Groth, was to stop the Tigers' (6-8) junior center, Bill Heppner. As far as scoring goes, they did. The Rams' (6-3) senior center, Ken Melton held Heppner to six points from the field. He also had two free throws. Groth said, "Melton played right with Heppner the whole game."

Heppner was able to snatch down 15 rebounds however.

In the shadow of the Rams' first loss, Groth is optimistic about the season ahead. As he put it, "we're going to be good."

Four In Soph Meet

Four teams will be playing before and after Thanksgiving in a sophomore basketball tournament at Carmel High School.

The host Corsairs took on Warren sophs at 4 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 27. They will play Mundelein at 1 p.m. Friday, Nov. 29 and Fremd at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 30.

Each team will play three games. All contests are open to the public.

North Suburban: Competitive

by DAVE ZINN

Traditionally the North Suburban Conference is one of the most ferociously competitive divisions in northern Illinois high school basketball.

This year is no different, as all the signs are there for another physical, but yet controlled year.

When a team loses a player like (6-6) Jim Ford to graduation and superstardom, the team must obviously rebuild. That is, unless that team is the Libertyville Wildcats.

Yes, the 'Cats will miss Ford because "you lose a lot of offense," states seventh year coach Max Sanders.

But believe it or not, they can compensate that loss by excelling in other categories such as defense.

"We'll concentrate more on defense," says Sanders, whose team finished tied for third with a 12-6 record and 15-10 record overall last season.

The 'Cats bring back another team filled with height. Senior Brian Wilcox (6-6) and Brian Kielman (6-4), who came into his own last year against Carmel in a playoff game scoring 22 points, will control the rebounding chores along with powerful Terry Kent (6-3).

Guards Dom Shanholtzer (6-1), John Manthei (5-11) and Bob Berteaux (5-10) will handle the backcourt duties.

"If we have good solid rebounding and get the younger players varsity experience, we'll be right up there," explains Sanders.

"Mundelein, with Jay Retzinger, and North Chicago, with J.C. Coleman will be tough," states Sanders, "and Warren with Brian Jarrell could be a ton."

Nobody needs a computer to figure out the cold facts about the Mundelein Mustangs.

Input: one of the best players in the entire county; quickness at the guard position; and a transfer student from Alaska.

Output: The Mustangs should be a contender in the 1985-86 race. Jay Retzinger at (6-5) returns to the Mustang club after averaging 20.2 points in the conference and 18.5 overall as a junior and being named to the all-conference team.

Retzinger, though is not the only weapon the Mustangs employ. Guards/forwards Jim Tipperreiter (6-2), Andy Bond (6-1) and Alaskan transfer student Tom Zentz (5-10) are players who will make things happen.

"The kids know the system" and all that is needed is that they become familiar with it again," explains coach Dennis Kessel, whose team finished 9-9 in conference and 11-14 overall last year.

Kessel, in his second year, led his team to a 34-5 record in three summer leagues including the Eastern Illinois camp, where they outplayed 18 teams to win it all.

Mundelein opens the season against Zion-Benton, but the ZeeBees won't be the only problem the Mustangs face this year.

"Warren has brilliant coaching in Darrell Bader and an outstanding player in Brian Jarrell," Kessel added, "Libertyville is always tough," he added.

"We'll be a contender," adds Kessel, "and a big surprise."

It could get very spooky in Antioch this winter. Antioch fans are now used to winning and the football team came through. The fateful day is drawing closer for Don Zeman to start another rich tradition in the halls of the Sequoias. Antioch has a very talented team this year and Zeman feels this may be the year.

Back are Dave Grindley (6-7) and football standout Don Gunther (6-5). "This is the best team in my four years here," states Zeman, whose team placed sixth last year in the NSC with an 8-10 record. "We have a very strong inside team."

A very strong inside team is an understatement. The Sequoias, besides the twin towers (Grindley and Gunther) have Rick Reitmater (6-5) and Matt Weber (6-4) playing in the clouds.

"Weber was very productive on the J.V. team last year," stated Zeman, "He'll get a lot of playing time." If a team like Antioch has any weakness, it's in the outside shooting department.

Brad Poulter, team MVP of a year ago, graduated and Zeman hopes someone is there to fill the void. "Brad took control when we needed it," he said.

With the rapid progress the team is making, Zeman feels his team will contend for the conference title. If Zeman can develop guards and wins the close games, Antioch fans will never rest their already hoarse voices.

The Zion-Benton ZeeBees are building a nice little team, but there is a catch; they are in the wrong conference. The rest of the NSC is bigger and stronger, but the ZeeBees have what those teams do not have; tremendous speed on the floor at all times.

Eleventh year coach Phil Judson is trying to rebound from a fourth place finish of a year ago.

Guards Merlon Stewart and Roy Griffin lead a team that has a crop of fast guards. "We'll fast break," says Judson, "Libertyville and Antioch have height, but we have quickness."

Chris Herling, Dallas Nash and Pat Cooper are players that can be the difference if they get track shoes. "It won't show immediately, but with a little time our speed will pay off," says Judson.

In the NSC, North Chicago has J.C. Olesman, Warren has Brian Jarrell and Mundelein has Jay Retzinger, but considering everything, what really has been brought to the NSC is a six-team concentration of rebounding and scoring talent that may well be unprecedented, and is certainly impossible to ignore.

First Hoop Weekend Sees Few Surprises

by MIKE PRAMSHAFER

The first weekend of high school basketball saw a few surprises, but for the most part everything fell into place the way it was supposed to.

As expected, Mundelein's Jay Retzinger was too much for the Zion-Benton ZeeBees as he pumped in 37 points, making 16 of 21 shots from the floor.

The Mustangs, behind Retzinger's superb effort, defeated Zion by a score of 65-57.

The Carmel Corsairs came closer than expected against Hersey, losing by a 63-59 count.

The high scorer for the Corsairs was senior Rodney Lambright, who scored 22 points. The lone returning starter for Carmel, Rod Whittier, only managed eight points in the season-opener.

The North Chicago Warhawks almost came up with a stunning upset over the Libertyville Wildcats, but fell one point short at 55-54.

Senior J.C. Coleman, of course, led the Warhawks in scoring with a game-high 16.

In other action on Nov. 22, Lake Forest defeated Fenton 66-57, Grant defeated Salem Central 61-51 and Crystal Lake Central whipped Grayslake 66-46.

potential danger of the water supply.

The documentation record for the Antioch HOD landfill site indicates a serious threat to groundwater, Toft said. One of five permits of waste streams shows that Waste Management was dumping 781821—latex emulsion from Morton Chemical Co. in another site when in fact millions of gallons of the waste was accepted at the Antioch landfill site, he said.

Other permits also show hazardous concentrations of wastes and in one case a hazardous substance—aqueous DBT herbicide waste, Toft said.

HOD landfill has been a controversial site in Antioch for several years and village officials in 1984 sued Waste Management in Lake County Circuit Court. They charged that the nation's largest waste-disposal company dumped hazardous industrial wastes in the domestic garbage site, expanding the site more than had been agreed upon.

During the course of expansion hearings in 1982 two witnesses testified they had observed years of clandestine or "midnight" dumping incidents, said Toft. Other witnesses, including Dr. Alphonse Zanoni, Dr. Jeremy Dunning and a local well driller Charles Wirtz, testified that they were concerned about a threat to public water supply, he said.

In addition to zinc, lead and cadmium found in a reading of one of a few monitoring wells, a 1983 organics scan shows a ten times higher concentration of chlorocyclohexanol at the site.

Toft said it has been suggested that 50 wells would be more appropriate on a site of this size and of such varying depths.

The potentially dangerous situation with Antioch's water supply stems from Waste Management's neglect to keep the leachate level from rising higher than the monitoring wells.

A recent IEPA inspection noted seepage of leachate, a monitored liquid of decomposed material and other waste liquids, on the end of the site into a ditch, indicating that the surface water route may also yield contaminants.

Some trenches are 20 to 25 feet below the depth of the monitoring wells, which are about 700 feet deep, and for the monitoring system to track any off-site migration of organic or inorganic chemicals is "woefully inadequate," Toft said.

The geology of the 82-acre garbage dump includes underlying sand lenses located in a floodplain and adequate compensatory storage has not been provided, Toft said. Repeated cover violations by Waste Management have increased the infiltration problem and, contrary to the operator's proposed developmental plans, the leachate collection system had been abandoned in or before 1978, he said.

The landfill operation, which started in 1963, was acquired by Waste Management in 1972 and closed in 1983. Under state regulations, the Oak Brook-based company does not have to monitor the site because it was not an official hazardous waste site and has been closed for three years.

But Toft said additional monitoring wells at various depths need to be drilled "as soon as possible to alleviate the legitimate public concern which has arisen over the present safety of the water supply."

"Only through a carefully designed system of wells will we know how far and how fast those contaminants are moving and how long we have to deal with the problem before irreversible contamination of the aquifer occurs."

The Antioch site is one out of 38 sites the EPA proposed this fall to be added to the national priority list. The addition of all 38 sites would raise the list to 850 if they were approved after further investigation. A month of public hearings ended Nov. 18.

Will Ramses Become A Mountain Of Dirt?

by GLORIA DAVIS

Will the Lake County Building and Zoning Dept. put a crimp in the completion of a dream being brought to life by Gurnee contractor, James Onan?

Onan, who is busy making and Egyptian paradise on Dilleys Rd., outside of Wadsworth (visible from Hwys. 41 and I-94), ran into his first real problem with the zoning department when the huge sandstone replica of Ramses II was unveiled last summer.

The statue guards the curved driveway leading to the Onan home, a five story, 54 foot tall, 24-carat-gold-plated pyramid. The Onan family lives in the middle two stories and the first two floors have been opened to the public.

After Lake County Zoning and Building Director Robert Streicher filed the zoning violation against him, Onan promised to bury the statue and make a mountain of dirt, but he said he would not move it.

"I don't want any trouble, I'm just doing my thing," said the Gurnee contractor.

He added that, if his statue violated the 25-foot height limit county ordinance, than so did every church steeple with a cross on top in the area.

"I'll bury the statue, I don't think they want to bury all those church steeples," he commented.

Since then Streicher has dispatched a letter to Onan, requesting that he formally apply for a height variance. And that's where King Ramses stands right now.

Onan, who will not tell how much this endeavor is, or will be, costing him, said "One of my goals is to be broke the day I die, the only trouble is I can't find out what day that will be and I don't want to be broke before then."

The complex has been designated a museum and Onan has already opened the first two floors of the pyramid to the public with tour proceeds going to charity.

"I don't make anything from the tours, I'm just having fun," he said.

Some of the tour money has already gone to St. Joseph's Catholic Church and the United Way.

Onan said that he had just been contacted by the United Way out of Chicago requesting a tour for $500 per person, proceeds to go to United Way.

"I would like some non-profit organization like that to take over the tours so that we can get out of collecting the money. Onan's present charge to drive to the "circle" from which his entire Egyptian dynasty can be viewed, is $5, preferably to be paid by check so official records can be kept.

Onan, who still works as a cement finisher at Onan Contractors in Gurnee, said that he made his money building and selling large buildings for the last 30 years.

Locally people identify him with the well-known Onan garages.

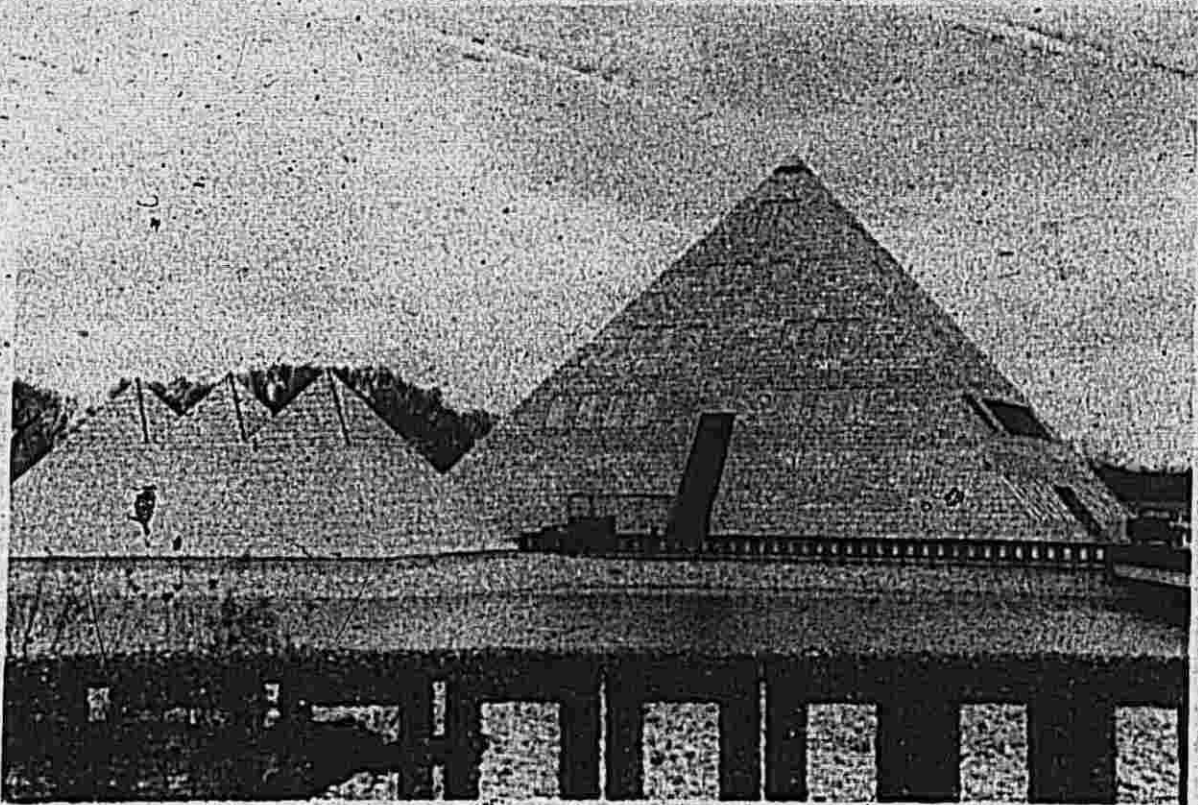

One might think that the construction of Onan's Egyptian dream is being manifested by an emulation of the original Ramses II who built temples, all over Egypt.

Besides the gold pyramid, gold peaked storage shed, 90 cement sphynx and other Egyptian artifacts that are starting to fill Onan's 11 acres, there are plans already in the hopper for a two-acre reproduction of King Tut's tomb plus a temple.

The whole dream of the complex started when Onan made a visit to Egypt in the 1960s and the actual construction of the pyramid started seven years ago.

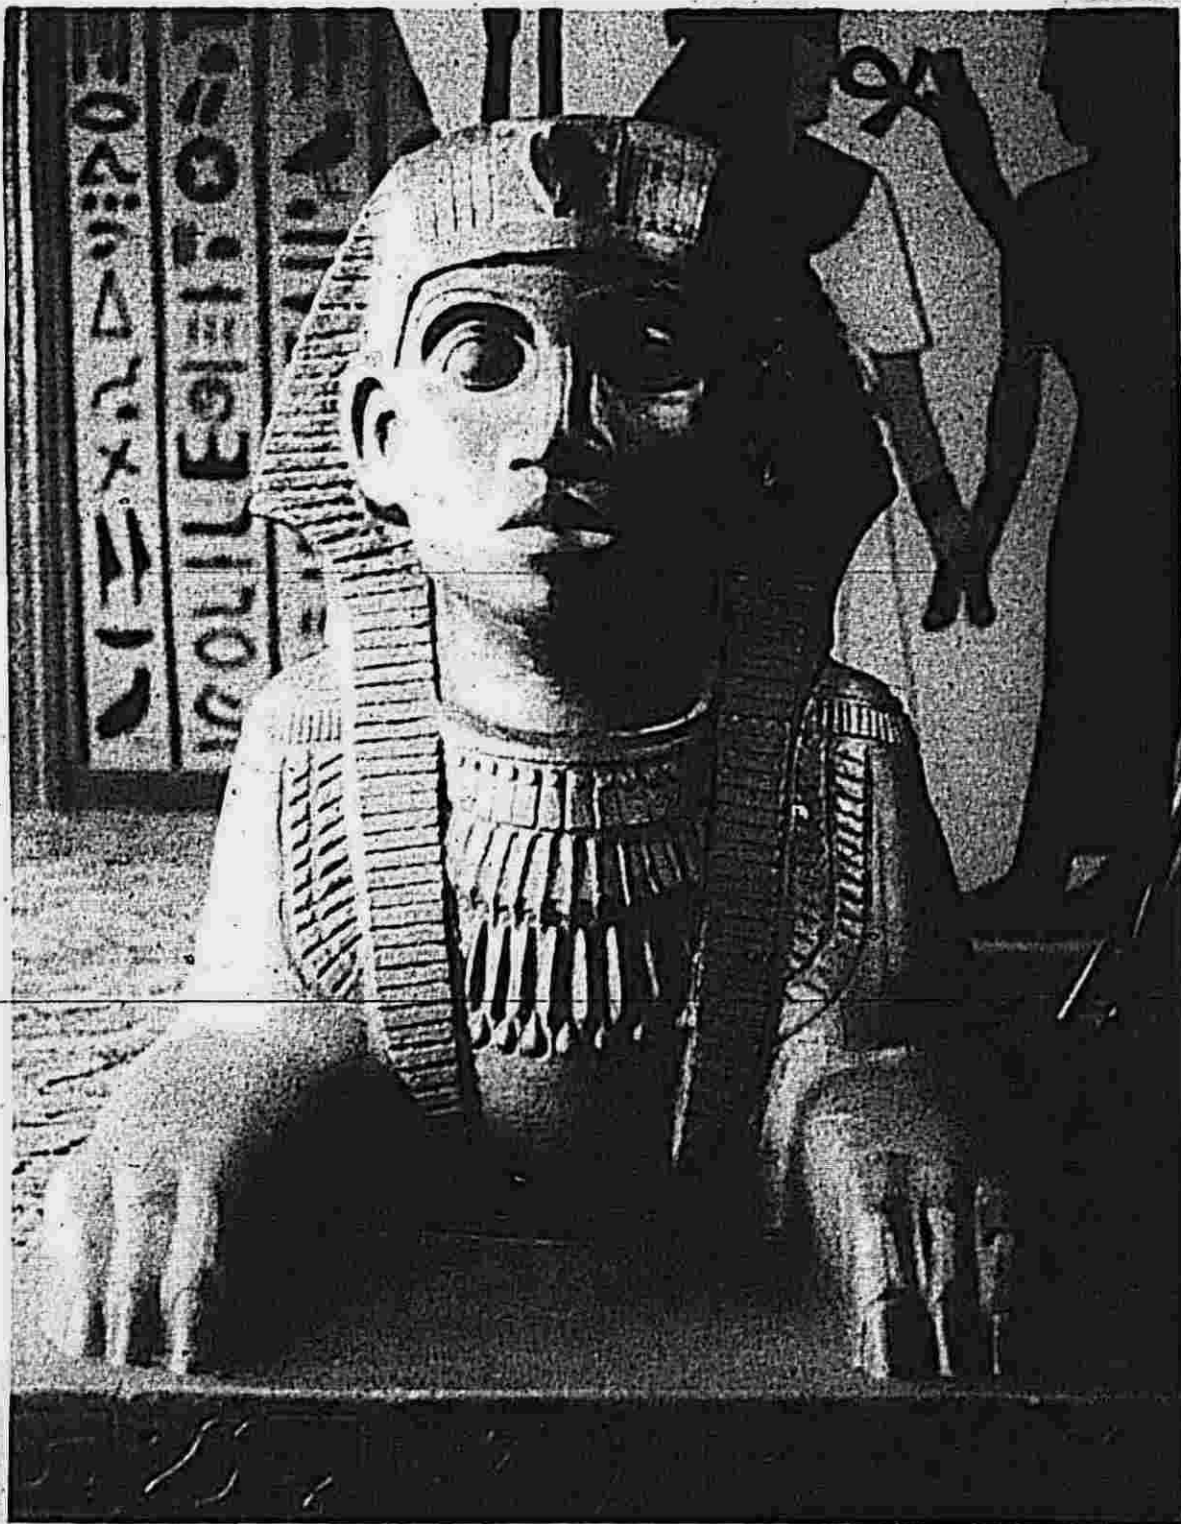

All of the gold plating has been covered with an acrylic coating for weather protection but Onan doesn't like the dulling effect and is in the process of having it redone.

If plans go according to the Onan agenda, it's sure that, like Ramses and Egypt, Lake and Kenosha counties won't be able to forget James Onan and the, sure to be memorable, tourist attraction he built.

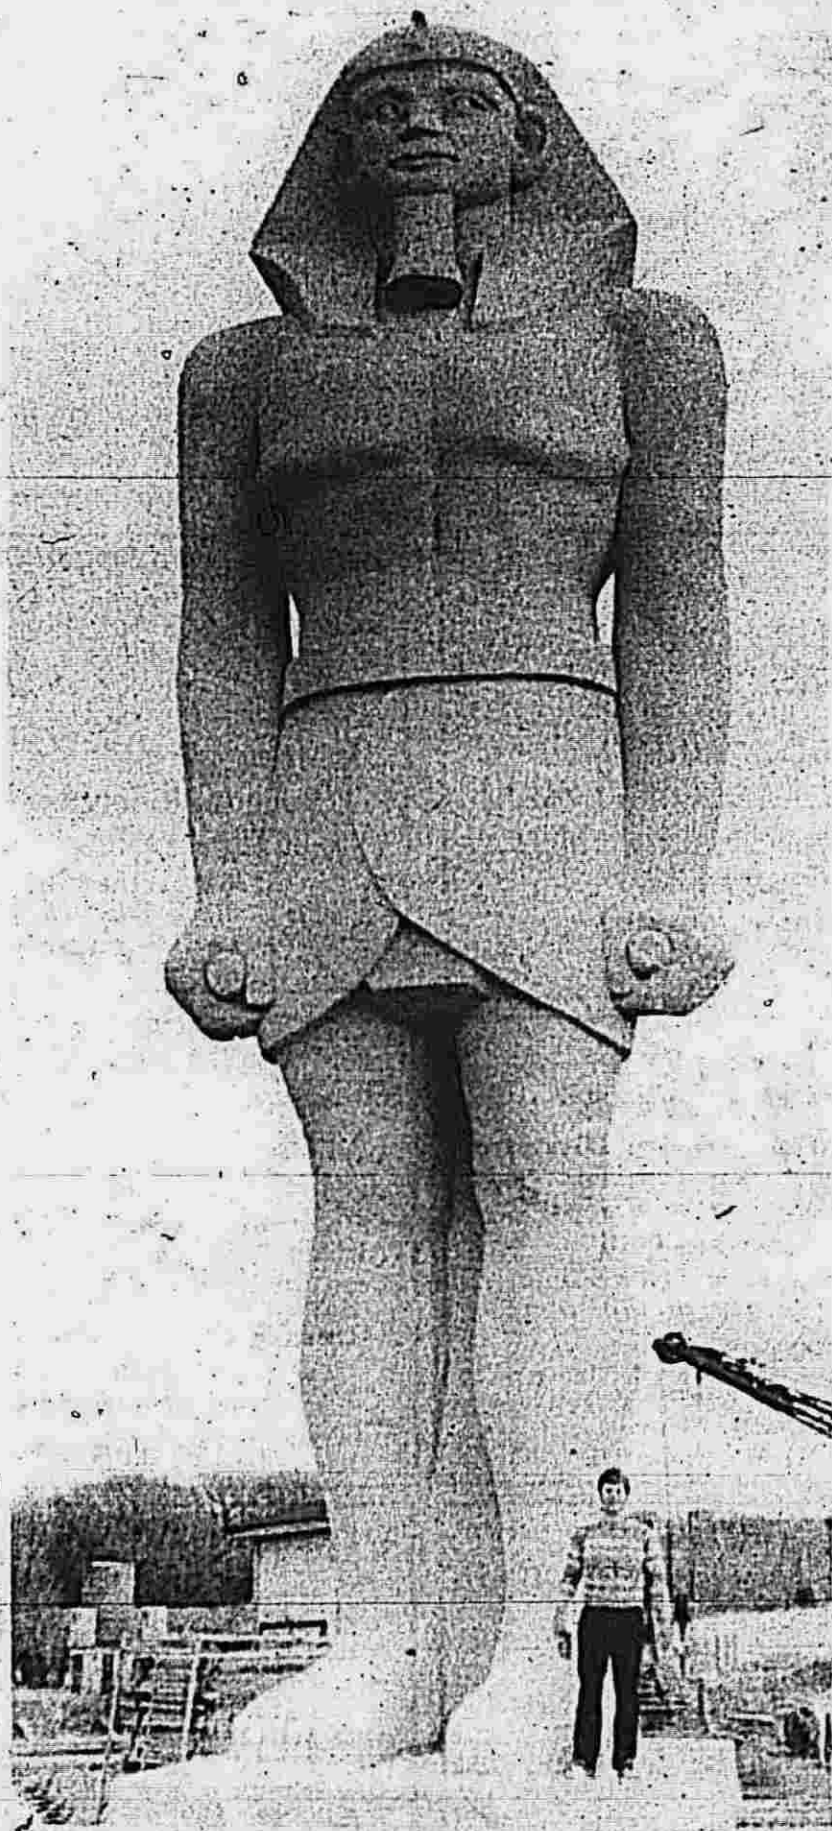

No Place Like A Gold Home

On the right is the five-story, 54-foot-tall, gold plated pyramid that serves as the home of the James Onan family (middle two floors) and tourist attraction (first two floors) outside of Wadsworth. The three smaller pyramids on the left are a storage shed. Only the three peaks of the shed are covered in gold. Egyptian complex can be seen both from Hwys. 41 and I-94.

Egyptian Folk Lore

The fiberglass mold, painted gold, that was used to form the 90 cement sphynx that decorate the grounds of the James Onan homestead in Wadsworth, can be found in the two floors of the gold pyramid that are open to the public. Onan, who is a cement finisher by trade, intends to use it to make 60 more of the Egyptian replicas.

Too Tall Jones? (Ramses II)

The sandstone statue of Ramses II that is center of zoning controversy, is guestimated at 45 feet in height. James Onan, the owner, will not give exact height. Because Onan was too impatient to wait for a replica from Egypt, he had artist Richard Matter commissioned to sculpt it. Lake County Building and Zoning head, Robert Streicher, who filed the zoning violence complaint against Onan, has written him a letter, asking that the Gurnee contractor file a petition with the county for a height variation.

14,000 Pointsettias To Light-Up Holiday Season

by GLORIA DAVIS

On Rte. 45, three-fourths of a mile north of Rte. 173, just east of Antioch, lies over an acre of greenhouses that harbor a wealth of green and blooming plants, trees and shrubs.

Thirteen has not been an unlucky number for the Koeune family that has been involved with filling that number of greenhouses for a dozen and one years since Eugene Koeune, Jr. and his two sons, Gene and Jim went into the wholesale and retail plant business at that site in 1972, known at the retail end as Koeune's Flower Farm and by wholesale buyers as Koeune's Greenhouses.

The expansion of both ends of the business is now in progress, "if we don't run out of land to put the greenhouses on," said Gene Koeune.

One of the biggest of their seasons has arrived with demands for holiday plants and "green and red" living decorations at its peak between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Koeune's will host a holiday open house on Saturday, Nov. 30 and Sunday, Dec. 1. It will be worth the trip just to see the grandiose display that will feature a seasonal blaze lit by 14,000 blooming poinsettia plants.

The flower farm will offer a 10 percent discount on all poinsettia plants sold during the open house.

Koeune's will also be featuring green wreaths and Christmas trees lush enough to put even Scrooge into the holiday spirit.

The family comes by their devotion to quality in green and blooming, living, things honestly since the grandparents on both sides were involved in the business in Chicago for years.

"We are working on making Koeune's more of a year-around business besides the big pushes with bedding plants in spring and the holiday decorations at Christmas time that we now have," said Gene Koeune.

So look for more greenhouses to spring up at Koeune's, adding to one that is 25 by 156 feet, five that are 42 by 156 feet, four that are 15 by 156 feet and three that are 15 by 100 feet, where more living treasures are sure to be found, all available at reasonable prices.

Acre Of Blooming Things

An aerial photograph of Koeune's Flower Farm on Rte. 45, east of Antioch, shows the many greenhouses filled with green and blooming plants and thousands of outdoor plants that make-up both the retail and wholesale inventory all available at reasonable prices.

Lenzen Tells Plans

Larry Lenzen, political activist, will be a candidate for a Republican nomination for the Lake County Board from Dist. 4 in the March, 1986 primary.

In confirming over the weekend his intentions, Lenzen said he will outline his campaign plans next week.

Lenzen said he is interested in unifying the Dist. 4 representatives from Avon, Antioch, Lake Villa and Grant townships and breaking the Democratic influence on county board activities.

Both reasons, he admitted, point to dissatisfaction with incumbent Dist. 4 Rep. Norman Geary, but Lenzen said he does not look upon himself as an "anti-Geary" candidate. Both are residents of Grayslake.

Lenzen added that in sounding out his chances for the GOP nomination with precinct committeemen and village officials throughout northwest Lake County, he found sentiment that Geary has made considerable enemies and mistakes.

"That isn't good for Dist. 4," he asserted.

Lenzen, who is employed by a West Chicago packaging firm as a salesman, is the fourth GOP candidate. He works out of his home. He was an unsuccessful candidate for mayor of Grayslake in the April village elections.

Others in the field besides Geary are Charlotte Klesgen and William Mesten, both of Fox Lake. There are two nominations to be filled.

To Present Workshop

The Round Lake Area Library, 442 Cedar Lake Rd., will present a Christmas craft workshop for children in grades one and up.

The workshop will be presented on Saturday, Dec. 7, at 10:30 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m., with a limit of 10 in each session.

Judge Orders Release Of Suspect's Records

The St. Therese Hospital records of John Wayne Chorba have been ordered to be released to Lake County Circuit Judge Jack Hoogasian to determine whether they contain information state prosecutors can use in the murder trial on Jan. 13.

Chorba, 23, the suspect charged with the Oct. 27 murder of Grayslake dental assistant Kathryn Kretschmer, walked with his girlfriend to St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan where he had gone to seek psychiatric help. Chorba was later picked up by police at the Lake County Mental Health Dept.

According to police investigators, Chorba told officials at the health department that he thought he had killed someone. State prosecutors assume may have made similar statements at St. Therese Hospital.

Hospital authorities have withheld the records, saying they would release them only under a court order. Assistant State's Atty. Matthew Chancey said that although the patient confidentiality is protected under state laws, the records may be disclosed if there is information regarding a homicide.

Additional charges of burglary and sexual assault are being pressed against Chorba.

Kretschmer's body was found in her apartment at 10 N. Whitney St. in Grayslake by a fellow employee after she failed to show up for work on Oct. 28. She had been found brutally beaten, strangled, and her throat had been slashed with a kitchen knife.

Chorba lived in an apartment across from Kretschmer.

CLC Professors Team For Unique Offering

Students who enroll in Comparative Economic Systems (ECO 225) and those who enroll in Comparative Government (PSC 221) this spring at the College of Lake County (CLC) will get a little more than they bargained for.

The courses will be team taught by CLC economics professor Bob Kerr and CLC political science professor John Steinke.

"The idea was motivated by the fact that economics plays a major role in government and government plays a major role in economics," explains Steinke.

"So, John's knowledge of government will give my economics class a clearer perspective on why a particular economic system works, or doesn't work," says Kerr.

Plans are also being made to offer several guest speakers to the combined classes. Specialists on the Soviet Union, Japanese trade and the Islamic government have already been contacted.

Says Steinke, "The team teaching concept is a way to combine our expertise to offer students the most complete course we can."

Kerr holds a Master's Degree from the University of Illinois. Steinke earned his Master's Degree from the University of Wisconsin.

Open registration for CLC spring semester classes begins Dec. 2 at the CLC Grayslake campus, the CLC Lakeshore campus, 111 N. Genesee St., Waukegan, and the CLC Southlake Center, 1860 First St., Highland Park.

Red Cross Offers CPR Class

The American Red Cross will be conducting a CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) class on Dec. 12 at the Red Cross office in Mundelein. The class will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and is open to anyone who wishes to attend.

According to Vivian Juhl, chairman of the Lake County

Dist. of the Red Cross, there is a tremendous need for CPR training, because the American Medical Assn. has stated that over 700,000 people die each year from heart attacks.

"The first few minutes after the attack's onset are the crucial period," state Juhl.

Considering the upcoming holidays and large family gatherings, this would be perfect time to learn CPR, just in case," she said.

For more information on CPR or to register for the class, call the Red Cross at (312) 949-1000. The Red Cross is a United Way agency.

Geo-Karis To Run For State Comptroller

Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) will be a candidate for Illinois State Comptroller.

Senator Geo-Karis is a thirteen year veteran of the Illinois Legislature, having served in the General Assembly from 1973 to 1979, and in the Illinois Senate from 1979 to date. She has successfully sponsored and supported laws for strong crime control, nuclear safety, and alternate energy, and bills aiding senior citizens, youth, the disabled and the working majority.

Gov. James R. Thompson asked Sen. Geo-Karis to join him on the 1986 Republican ticket last week.

"My top priority as state comptroller is to be the guardian of the public treasury. The people of Illinois deserve to know more fully where and why their tax dollars are being spent," said Sen. Geo-Karis.

Reaction to Sen. Geo-Karis' announcement was well-received by Republican leaders such as Al Jordan, McHenry County GOP Chairman, who welcomed the inclusion of an experienced woman to the GOP ticket. Donald L. Totten, Chairman of the Cook County Republican Party, said "I'm excited about the Senator's entry into the race. She will be a tremendous asset to the Republican Party in this campaign." Robert Neal, Lake County GOP Chairman said, "I am very pleased to have as Lake County's first statewide GOP candidate in many years, a person of Sen. Geo-Karis' ability and dedication."

Sen. Geo-Karis stated, "People who know me, know that I tell it like it is, and they also know that no one owns me but God."

Early Start Keynotes Good Retirement Plans

If you are thinking about retiring at the end of the year, your plans should include Social Security. There are also several factors a person should consider.

First, a person under 65 considering retirement should remember that his or her Social Security benefit will be permanently pension could be a factor. So could the person's ability to continue working.

At any rate, a person should contact Social Security 2 or 3 months before reaching 65 to arrange Medicare health insurance protection even if there are no plans for retirement.

A person should have certain information ready when applying for benefits. The person needs his or her Social Security card or a record of the number. Next, a person needs proof of his or her date of birth. An official record of birth recorded before age 5 is best, but other documents can be used if this is not available.

Forms W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement) or self-employment tax returns for the past 2 years should be available. These are needed so that all of a person's earnings can be considered in figuring benefits.

A husband or wife who is also applying should have the same documents. Birth certificates of any eligible children are also needed.

Do not delay applying if all this evidence is not available. Call the Social Security office. The people there can tell what other evidence can be used.

If you have any questions regarding retirement, please contact the Waukegan Social Security office, located at One North Genesee Street. The telephone number is 244-5050.

WE'LL MISS OUR HOME we've been happy here but due to business reasons we must move. If you like being warmed by a blazing fire in a stone fireplace while admiring the AUTUMN woods through large windows; if you enjoy soft breezes, in the SUMMER while relaxing on the balcony and watching the mallards on the creek; if you like to view the sparkle of the morning sun as the rabbits scamper across the crisp WINTER snow; and if you can laugh at the antics of the squirrels playing tag on the wide expanse of lawn while their chatter interrupts the frogs love call in the SPRING, then you might like to buy our home on 1 1/2 acres (it's close to conveniences including the good schools). We hope you do. We don't want it to be empty and alone at Christmas.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Kiss and make up. Forgiveness is not only divine, it's the right thing to do before the holidays. Plus — if you hold grudges, you could wind up holding no one at all.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Someone special adds you to a party list. The invitation may be a surprise, but weren't you hoping for it? Say yes to the bid and expect more invites to follow.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) A minor health problem in the family needs attention. Be understanding but firm. Reassure kin of your loving support. Conserve energy; ease up on hectic holiday pace.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 22) Approach new responsibilities with a positive attitude. How you act will affect the reactions of others. Build confidence in yourself. Spend time with a loved one.

Leo (Jul. 23-Aug. 22) Cash in on some small changes about to take place in your life. Rely on your good instincts to recognize them as they occur. Pounce on those who can do the most for you.

Virgo (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) A minor but pesky money problem needs to be solved lest it dissolve part of your cheery holiday spirit. Have you rechecked your checkbook for easily overlooked errors?

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) A former admirer returns to press a new romantic suit. Be sure you insist on ironing out all the wrinkles you two had before you start your relationship anew.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Another Scorpion has some ideas to discuss about a future situation which you may well want to be part of. Listen well. Then act on your best instincts.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Though romantic matters seem to be up in the air, you do best by keeping your feet on the ground. Remember — even Cupid needs a steady target to aim at.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Those career changes that started showing up last month take new turns now. Be ready to be called back for new interviews. Brush up on your best skills.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Put aside holiday preparations long enough to assess a new career opportunity. You may need to retrain, but at least you'll be on the right track once again.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) That budding friendship soon blossoms into a mature relationship. Be ready to be asked a very important question: No doubt you know what the answer will be!
